If the maturity date or an interest payment date for any note is not a business day (as term is defined in prospectus), principal, premium, if any, and interest for that note is paid on the next business day, and no interest will accrue from, and after, the maturity date or interest payment date.

Legal Matters- Validity of the Notes:

In the opinion of counsel to Ally Financial Inc. (the "Company"), when the notes offered by this pricing supplement have been executed and issued by the Company and authenticated by the trustee pursuant to the indenture dated as of September 24, 1996, with The Bank of New York Mellon (as successor to JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A.), as trustee (the "Trustee"), as amended and supplemented from time to time (the "Indenture"), and delivered against payment as contemplated herein, such notes will be valid and binding obligations of the Company, subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency and similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally, concepts of reasonableness and equitable principles of general applicability, and provided that I express no opinion as to (i) the enforceability of any waiver of rights under any usury or stay law, (ii) the effect of fraudulent conveyance, fraudulent transfer or similar provision of applicable law on the conclusions expressed above and (iii) the validity, legally binding effect or enforceability of any provision that permits holders to collect any portion of stated principal amount upon acceleration of the notes to the extent determined to constitute unearned interest. This opinion is given as of the date hereof and is limited to Federal laws of the United States of America, the law of the State of New York and the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware. In addition, this opinion is subject to customary assumptions about the Trustee's authorization, execution and delivery of the Indenture, the Trustee's authentication of the notes, and the validity, binding nature and enforceability of the Indenture with respect to the Trustee, and the genuineness of signatures and to such counsel's reliance on the Company and other sources as to certain factual matters, all as stated in the letter of such counsel dated August 24, 2012, which has been filed as Exhibit 5.1 to the Registration Statement.

Dear Fellow Shareholders,

Rim Semiconductor Company filed a proxy statement with the SEC in order to bring an important corporate matter to you for a vote. I and the rest of the Board of Directors unanimously agree that the number of shares that the company is authorized to issue should be increased from nine hundred million to four billion. The reasons are simple. We are obligated to reserve shares of common stock for possible future issuance in connection with outstanding options and warrants, and must also reserve sufficient shares to fulfill our obligations to various investors associated with the potential conversion of over $4 Million in convertible notes and debentures. Right now, of our 900 million authorized shares, we only have approximately 175 million shares available for issuance. We need additional shares authorized so that we will have shares available to meet our legal obligations to the holders of these existing convertible securities. Moreover, we also believe that having additional shares of common stock available for issuance, without the delay necessitated by a shareholders meeting, will provide the company with the flexibility to consider and respond to future business opportunities and financial needs as they arise. Why are we authorizing four billion shares? We do not want to have a shareholder vote again to increase our share count for many years to come, if ever.

Every time we have a shareholder vote, we have a meeting. As you will see from the proxy statement, a date, time and location has been set. It will not be like other Rim Semiconductor Company shareholder meetings that you may have attended in the past. Only one representative from Rim Semiconductor Company will be there, and it will have only one agenda item, specifically this vote. Later in the summer, we intend to have our annual shareholder meeting in Portland. We expect that the meeting will include product demonstrations, presentations, guest speakers, investor dinners and perhaps other events. We expect to announce the location and date for the Portland meeting in May.

Sincerely,

Brad Ketch
President and CEO
Rim Semiconductor Company
