Item 8.01 Other Events

On October 7, 2008, Judge Jane Johnson held a hearing with respect to the Company's lawsuit against the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California ("Metropolitan") in order (as previously reported by the Company in a Form 8-K dated September 3, 2008) to rule upon Metropolitan's claim that it has immunity under the California Government Code for any breach of its duties towards the Company.

In the hearing, Judge Johnson issued a tentative ruling granting Metropolitan's motion for judgment on the pleadings against the Company's claim for breach of fiduciary duty. Citing to a very recent decision (July 31, 2008) by the California Supreme Court (Miklosy v. Regents of the University of California), the court indicated that it agreed with Metropolitan's argument that any breach of duty alleged in the Company's complaint was subject to statutory immunity, such that even if Metropolitan did breach their duty in failing to accept the Right of Way or refusing to certify the final environmental documents, Metropolitan, as a governmental entity, would have no liability. The court continued the hearing until October 30, 2008, at which time it will consider whether or not to grant leave to amend the complaint. Following that ruling the Company will evaluate all of its options.

The ruling today pertained only to the Company's claim for monetary damages from Metropolitan and has no effect on the Company's continued development of its Dry Year Supply Project as detailed in the press release dated September 18th, 2008.
