Item 1.01

Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On February 21, 2005 Specialty Laboratories, Inc. (the Company) entered into an incentive agreement with Michael C. Dugan, M.D., the Company's vice-president and co-laboratory director. Under the agreement with Dr. Dugan, if he is still employed by the Company on February 20, 2006, the Company will pay Dr. Dugan a $100,000 incentive bonus in a lump sum. In the event Dr. Dugan resigns, or is terminated for cause, prior to February 20, 2006, he will not be entitled to receive the incentive bonus. If he is involuntarily terminated other than for cause prior to February 20, 2006, he will not receive the incentive bonus, but instead he will receive the severance protection payments under his employment agreement with the Company dated September 11, 2004. The other terms of Dr. Dugan's employment agreement remain in effect.

On February 21, 2005 the Company entered into an incentive agreement with Cynthia K. French, Ph.D., the Company's vice-president and chief science officer. Under the agreement with Dr. French, if she is still employed by the Company on February 20, 2006, the Company will pay Dr. French a $20,000 incentive bonus in a lump sum. In the event Dr. French resigns, or is terminated for cause, prior to February 20, 2006, she will not be entitled to receive the incentive bonus. If she is involuntarily terminated other than for cause prior to February 20, 2006, she will not receive the incentive bonus, but instead she will receive the severance protection payments under her employment agreement with the Company dated September 11, 2004. The other terms of Dr. French's employment agreement remain in effect.

On February 21, 2005 the Company entered into an incentive agreement with Cheryl G. Gallarda, the Company's vice-president of business operations. Under the agreement with Ms. Gallarda, if she is still employed by the Company on February 20, 2006, the Company will pay Ms. Gallarda a $50,000 incentive bonus in a lump sum. In the event Ms. Gallarda resigns, or is terminated for cause, prior to February 20, 2006, she will not be entitled to receive the incentive bonus. If she is involuntarily terminated other than for cause prior to February 20, 2006, she will not receive the incentive bonus, but instead she will receive the severance protection payments under her employment agreement with the Company dated September 11, 2004. The other terms of Ms. Gallarda's employment agreement remain in effect.

On February 21, 2005 the Company entered into an incentive agreement with Robert M. Harman, the Company's vice-president and chief information officer. Under the agreement with Mr. Harman, if he is still employed by the Company on February 20, 2006, the Company will pay Mr. Harman a $50,000 incentive bonus in a lump sum. In the event Mr. Harman resigns, or is terminated for cause, prior to February 20, 2006, he will not be entitled to receive the incentive bonus. If he is involuntarily terminated other than for cause prior to February 20, 2006, he will not receive the incentive bonus, but instead he will receive the severance protection payments under his employment agreement with the Company dated September 11, 2004. The other terms of Mr. Harman's employment agreement remain in effect.

On February 21, 2005 the Company entered into an incentive agreement with Maryam Sadri, the Company's vice-president of laboratory operations. Under the agreement with Ms. Sadri, if she is still employed by the Company on February 20, 2006, the Company will pay Ms. Sadri a $50,000 incentive bonus in a lump sum. In the event Ms. Sadri resigns, or is terminated for cause, prior to February 20, 2006, she will not be entitled to receive the incentive bonus. If she is involuntarily terminated other than for cause prior to February 20, 2006, she will not receive the incentive bonus, but instead she will receive the severance protection payments under her employment agreement with the Company dated September 11, 2004. The other terms of Ms. Sadri's employment agreement remain in effect.

On February 21, 2005 Company entered into an incentive agreement with Nicholas R. Simmons, the Company's vice-president and general counsel. Under the agreement with Mr. Simmons, if he is still employed by the Company on February 20, 2006, the Company will pay Mr. Simmons a $100,000 incentive bonus in a lump sum. In the event Mr. Simmons resigns, or is terminated for cause, prior to February 20, 2006, he will not be entitled to receive the incentive bonus. If he is involuntarily terminated other than for cause prior to February 20, 2006, he will not receive the incentive bonus, but instead he will receive the severance protection payments under his employment agreement with the Company dated September 11, 2004. The other terms of Mr. Simmons' employment agreement remain in effect.

On February 21, 2005 the Company entered into an incentive agreement with Mark R. Willig, the Company's vice-president chief information officer. Under the agreement with Mr. Willig, if he is still employed by the Company on February 20, 2006, the Company will pay Mr. Willig a $50,000 incentive bonus in a lump sum. In the event Mr. Willig resigns, or is terminated for cause, prior to February 20, 2006, he will not be entitled to receive the incentive bonus. If he is involuntarily terminated other than for cause prior to February 20, 2006, he will not receive the incentive bonus, but instead he will receive the severance protection payments under his employment agreement with the Company dated September 11, 2004. The other terms of Mr. Willig's employment agreement remain in effect.
