Item 1.01. Entry Into A Material Definitive Agreement.

On August 19, 2010, Force Protection, Inc. ( Force Protection ) was awarded through its wholly-owned subsidiary, Force Protection Industries, Inc., a contract modification under its contract M67854-07-D-5031 with the U.S. Marine Corps Systems Command for additional modernization of the U.S. military's Mine Resistant Ambush Protected ( MRAP ) Cougar vehicles. The approximate $64.1 million contract modification provides for seat survivability upgrade kits for 1,946 Cougar vehicles. The modification is subject to definitization. Work will be performed primarily in Afghanistan with additional work in Kuwait and home stations in the United States, and expected to be complete by February, 2011. The award was made pursuant to a contract between Force Protection Industries, Inc. and U.S. Marine Corps Systems Command dated January 25, 2007 for the testing, production and sustainability for its MRAP vehicle program.

Item 8.01. Other Events.

On August 23, 2010, Force Protection issued a press release announcing the August 19, 2010 contract modification from the U.S. Marine Corps System Command. A copy of the press release issued on August 23, 2010 is attached as Exhibit 99.1 to this Current Report on Form 8-K and incorporated herein by reference.

This Current Report on Form 8-K contains forward looking statements that are not historical facts, including statements about our beliefs and expectations. These statements are based on beliefs and assumptions of Force Protection's management, and on information currently available to management. These forward looking statements include, among other things: the growth, demand and interest for Force Protection's services and vehicles, including the Cougar; expectations for future modernization and service-related contracts for the Cougar; the benefits and suitability of the Cougar, including its survivability enhancements; the ability to meet current and future requirements, including expected work completion dates; Force Protection's execution of its business strategy and strategic transformation, including its opportunities to grow the business; and Force Protection's expected financial and operating results, including its revenues, cash flow and gross margins, for future periods. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made, and Force Protection undertakes no obligation to update any of them publicly in light of new information or future events. A number of important factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statements. Examples of these factors include, but are not limited to, the ability to effectively manage the risks in Force Protection's business; the ability to develop new technologies and products and the acceptance of these technologies and products; and the other risk factors and cautionary statements listed in Force Protection's periodic reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including the risks set forth in Force Protection's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2009 and as updated in the Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2010.
