Table of ContentsFinancial Markets Highlights*Agency Mortgage Backed Securities (Agency MBS)

For the six-month period ending March 31, 2014, the Agency MBS sector had a return of 1.16% according to the Barclays U.S. MBS Index. This return included a price return of -0.55% which was similar to that of the U.S. Treasury sector. During this six-month period, the duration of Agency MBS has stayed fairly constant and close to an all-time high level. As of March 31, 2014, the duration of the Barclays U.S. MBS Index was 5.5 years and the highest level it got to during this six-month reporting period was 5.7 years back in November. This longer duration means that the sector has more volatility with regard to rate movements than it historically has. Within the MBS sector, higher coupon mortgages outperformed lower coupon mortgages and 15-year mortgages outperformed 30-year mortgages during the period. This was due to rates rising across the curve and lower coupon mortgages and 30-year mortgages having more duration than higher coupon mortgages and 15-year mortgages. For the six-month reporting period gross issuance decreased every month going from $125 billion per month back in October 2013 to $51 billion per month in March 2014. This reduction in supply is important as it comes during an environment where the Federal Reserve (the Fed) is tapering its quantitative easing (QE) program. On March 18, 2014, the Fed announced its third tapering, bringing monthly bond purchases down to $55 billion per month (includes purchases of $25 billion in mortgage bonds), from $85 billion last December before the first taper.

Non-Agency Mortgage Backed Securities (Non-Agency MBS)

Trading volume in the non-Agency MBS sector slowed going into the end of 2013 and persisted into the first quarter of 2014. Portfolio liquidations accounted for a large portion of the bid list volume. Despite some concerns of rising interest rates and the potential for bond fund redemptions, trading levels were strong with participation from a broad buyer base. Supply technicals were the primary driver of the continued rally, but housing fundamentals continued to improve. Home price appreciation over the six-month period was 5.7% according to the S&P/Case-Shiller 20-City Home Price Index. Total volume (current face) of all non-Agency MBS bid lists for the past six-month reporting was $84 billion. Rising mortgage rates have put some pressure on housing affordability and prepayment rates, but increased home prices and an improving economy have kept delinquency and default rates on a downward trend. Prepayments across all sectors remain faster than historical speeds on average, but the sharp rise in rates and naturally occurring refinancing burnout have caused prepayment speeds to slow relative to the speeds observed during the previous year. During the six-month period, liquidations have also declined across all sectors, with the exception of a significant spike in liquidations in late March 2014 caused by the reclassification of forbearance modifications. Trading volume within the ABX Indices has declined within the past year, but they continue to be a reasonable proxy for the subprime mortgage backed bond market. For the six-month period ending March 31, 2014, the ABX 2006-2 AAA returned 8.9%. Beaten down sectors such as the subprime sector were more levered to a recovering housing market and thus outperformed in the face of a sustained housing rebound. Cleaner collateral, such as prime and Alt-A, also performed favorably posting total returns of approximately 5.5% and 4.5%, respectively, over the period.

Emerging Markets Debt (EM Debt)

Over the six-month period ending March 31, 2014, performance across all Emerging Market (EM) Fixed Income sectors has been marked by improving risk sentiment and a moderation of outflows leaving the EM asset class. EM investors have remained cautiously optimistic following the Federal Reserve's decision in December to begin scaling back its asset purchases known as QE. Performance, however, has been differentiated across credits fundamentals and governments' ability to convince investors they are committed to improving the macroeconomic outlook of their countries. Over this six-month period, despite some intra-month volatility, 10-year U.S. Treasury yields rose a moderate 0.11% to 2.72% at the end of March 2014 from 2.61% at September 2013 month end. EM dollar denominated corporate and sovereign debt outperformed EM local currency government bonds as investors seemed to prefer the dollar safe haven due to lingering tail risks of a China credit bubble and geopolitical tensions in Eastern Europe. EM currencies broadly depreciated against the U.S. dollar and many central banks were forced to raise local rates to stem growing inflation pressures.

Bank Loans

For the six-month period ending March 31, 2014, the S&P/LSTA Leveraged Loan Index returned 2.91%. Single-B loans returned 3.16%, outperforming BB-rated returns of 1.88%. Notable outperformers by industry were Publishing (+5.80%), Utilities (+5.52%) and Media (+4.28%). Underperforming industries were Food Service (-.66%), Cosmetics-Toiletries (+1.69%) and Leisure (+2.66%).

Table of ContentsFinancial Markets Highlights (Cont.)*High Yield

For the six-month period ending March 31, 2014, the Citi High-Yield Cash-Pay Capped Index returned 6.40%. Longer-maturity bonds outperformed shorter ones, with those maturing in 10 years or more returning 10.11% while the 1-7 year category returned 5.34%. Credit quality did not have much effect on returns, with a narrow band of 6.30% for BB-rated issues, 6.40% for B-rated and 6.66% for CCC-rated. Notable outperformers by industry were Paper & Forest Products (+10.14%), Tower (+9.28%), Publishing (+9.12%), and Airlines (+9.02%). Underperforming industries were Wireless (-3.62%), Restaurants (+1.69%), Retail Stores-Other (+4.16%), and Gaming (+4.82%).

Collateralized Loan Obligations (CLOs)

CLO issuance ended 2013 with a very active fourth quarter. Issuance slowed considerably in January as managers waited for more clarity on the regulatory front in regards to the Volcker Rule, risk retention and liquidity coverage ratios. The market was initially concerned about future forced selling from banks, mostly due to Volcker Rule implications, which also brought new CLO issuance to only $2.5 billion in January. The January U.S. CLO monthly supply hit its lowest level since the middle of 2012. Since the first month of the year, there has been positive momentum on the regulatory front which brought a surge of newly issued deals. Forty-seven new deals were issued in the first quarter of the year totaling to $23.1 billion with $20 billion of that total issued in the month of March alone, surpassing 2013's high in November. Retail loan funds continued to see strong demand, with positive inflows for 91 straight weeks, and with loan fund assets under management rising to approximately equal the outstanding balance of post-crisis deals. The elevated pace of retail fund flows into loan funds did slow in March; however, these funds have grown to hold 31.5% of the CLO primary market in 2013, even though they historically held only 15-20%. While most of the fixed income market suffered from volatility due to a rise in interest rates over the latter half of 2013, CLOs were largely insulated. In fact, the sector did not widen until the start of 2014.

Commercial Mortgage-Backed Securities (CMBS)

Over the six-month period ending March 31, 2014, the CMBS sector largely underperformed broader credit markets as attention was garnered towards much larger sectors such as investment grade corporate despite CMBS displaying improvement in fundamentals. As such, Barclays U.S. CMBS Index returned 1.8% compared to investment grade corporate at 4.1%. In terms of the secondary market, trading activity was rather muted going into the end of the year as investors remained on the sidelines with limited conviction for spread products given the strong rally in equities. Despite this, the pace of new issuance remained strong into year-end, ending the year at $83 billion of deals brought to market. We continue to remain cautiously optimistic in CMBS and continue to see relative value in this sector due to a combination of recent underperformance as well as a robust improvement in commercial real estate fundamentals. During the six-month period ending March 31, 2014, the CMBS portion of the Barclays U.S. Aggregate Bond Index returned 1.63% versus 0.86% for the broader index. On the new issue front, non-Agency CMBS issuance was up by $4 billion over the prior six-month period with $41 billion issued in 52 deals, an 11% increase. Delinquency rates continued to improve during the reporting period, with the overall U.S. CMBS delinquency rate ending the first quarter at 6.5%. Overall, delinquency rates have declined across all major property types over the six-month reporting period.

6 DoubleLine Income Solutions Fund

Table of ContentsManagement's Discussion of Fund Performance

The DoubleLine Income Solutions Fund outperformed the Barclays Global Aggregate Bond Index's return of 1.95% for the six-month period ending March 31, 2014 based on net asset value. The U.S. Treasury curve flattened with shorter term rates remaining relatively unchanged, longer term rates were lower to unchanged and the belly of the curve rose. Lower in credit quality bonds traded tighter relative to higher credit counterparts in most asset classes. High yield, which was approximately 17.5% of the portfolio as of March 31, 2014, was the best performing sector during the period as more credit sensitive securities grinded tighter against a relatively benign default environment. The high yield bonds within the Fund contributed over 12% in total return while the sector ended 2013 with a six-year low in default rate. Strong demand remains for the sector as high yield mutual fund inflows remained strong and have supported the new issue market, which in turn has helped to support pricing for the sector. The EM sector, which was roughly 45% of the portfolio as of March 31, 2014, was the next best performing sector for the six-month period returning close to 9% for the period. The EM sector was invested in U.S. dollar (USD)-denominated EM corporate credit rated primarily BB. Residential MBS (RMBS), which were approximately 20% of the portfolio as of March 31, 2014, performed well with subprime non-Agency RMBS experiencing the most price appreciation. The RMBS sleeve outperformed the Barclays U.S. MBS Index's return of 1.16%. Both bank loans and CLOs additionally added strong returns to the Fund as both sectors have benefited from robust demand from the investment community. The Fund held approximately 10% in bank loans as of March 31, 2014, which saw strong technical conditions aided by the surge of CLO issuance in March. CLOs, which accounted for 5% of the Fund, gained traction in new issuance late in the first quarter as regulatory concerns waned. Leverage in the portfolio was accretive to the overall performance of the Fund; however, the leverage also lengthened the duration of the Fund which increased volatility.

Shares of closed-end investment companies frequently trade at a discount to their net asset value, which may increase investors' risk of loss. There are risks associated with an investment in the Fund. Investors should consider the Fund's investment objective, risks, charges and expenses carefully before investing. An investment in the Fund should not constitute a complete investment program.

This document is not an offer to sell securities or the solicitation of an offer to buy securities, nor shall there be any sale or offer of these securities, in any jurisdiction where such sale or offer is not permitted.

The Fund's shares are only offered through broker/dealers on the secondary market. Unlike an open-end mutual fund, a closed-end fund offers a fixed number of shares for sale. After the initial public offering, shares are bought and sold in the secondary marketplace, and the market price of the shares is determined by supply and demand, not by net asset value (NAV), often at a lower price than the NAV. A closed-end fund is not required to buy its shares back from investors upon request.

Credit ratings from Moody's range from the highest rating of Aaa for bonds judged to be of the highest quality subject to the lowest level of credit risk to the lowest rating of C typically for obligations that are in default, with little prospect for recovery of principal or interest. Credit ratings from Standard & Poor's (S&P) range from the highest rating AAA, for bonds of the highest quality that offer the lowest degree of investment risk, to the lowest rating of D for bonds that are in default.

Fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible.

Investments in debt securities typically decline in value when interest rates rise. This risk is usually greater for longer-term debt securities. Investments in asset-backed and mortgage-backed securities include additional risks that investors should be aware of including credit risk, prepayment risk, possible illiquidity and default, as well as increased susceptibility to adverse economic developments. The Fund may invest in foreign securities which involve greater volatility and political, economic and currency risks and differences in accounting methods. These risks are greater for investments in emerging markets. Investments in lower rated and non-rated securities present a greater risk of loss to principal and interest than higher rated securities. Investment strategies may not achieve the desired results due to implementation lag, other timing factors, portfolio management decision-making, economic or market conditions or other unanticipated factors.

In addition, the Fund may invest in other asset classes and investments such as, among others, REITs, credit default swaps, short sales, derivatives and smaller companies which include additional risks.

1. Organization

DoubleLine Income Solutions Fund (the Fund) is a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the 1940 Act). The Fund was organized as a Massachusetts business trust on January 10, 2013 and commenced operations on April 26, 2013. The Fund is listed on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) under the symbol DSL. The Fund's primary investment objective is to seek high current income and its secondary objective is to seek capital appreciation.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

The following is a summary of the significant accounting policies of the Fund. These policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAP).

A. Security Valuation. The Fund has adopted US GAAP fair value accounting standards which establish a definition of fair value and set out a hierarchy for measuring fair value. These standards require additional disclosures about the various inputs and valuation techniques used to develop the measurements of fair value and a discussion of changes in valuation techniques and related inputs during the period. These inputs are summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

Level 1 Unadjusted quoted market prices in active markets for identical securities

Level 2 Quoted prices for identical or similar assets in markets that are not active, or inputs derived from observable market data

Level 3 Significant unobservable inputs (including the reporting entity's estimates and assumptions)
Assets and liabilities may be transferred between levels. The Fund uses end of period timing recognition to account for any transfers.

Market values for domestic and foreign fixed income securities are normally determined on the basis of valuations provided by independent pricing services. Vendors typically value such securities based on one or more inputs described in the following table. The table provides examples of inputs that are commonly relevant for valuing particular classes of fixed income securities in which the Fund is authorized to invest. However, these classifications are not exclusive, and any of the inputs may be used to value any other class of fixed-income securities. Securities that use similar valuation techniques and inputs as described in the following table are categorized as Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy. To the extent the significant inputs are unobservable, the values would be categorized as Level 3.

Fixed-income class

All

Examples of Standard Inputs

US and foreign corporate bonds and notes	Benchmark yields, transactions, bids, offers, quotations from dealers and trading systems, new issues, spreads and other relationships observed in the markets among comparable securities; and proprietary pricing models such as yield measures calculated using factors such as cash flows, financial or collateral performance and other reference data (collectively referred to as standard inputs)
Bonds and notes of government and government agencies	Standard inputs and underlying equity of the issuer
Residential and commercial mortgage-backed obligations; mortgage-backed; asset-backed obligations (including collateralized loan obligations)	Standard inputs
Bank loans	Standard inputs and cash flows, prepayment information, default rates, delinquency and loss assumptions, collateral characteristics, credit enhancements and specific deal information, trustee reports
	Quotations from dealers and trading systems

Investments in registered open-end management investment companies will be valued based upon the Net Asset Values (NAV) of such investments and are categorized as Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy. Investments in private investment funds typically will be valued based upon the NAVs of such investments and are categorized as Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy. As of March 31, 2014, the Fund did not hold any investments in private investment funds.

Short-term debt investments having a maturity of 60 days or less are generally valued at amortized cost which approximates fair market value. These investments are categorized as Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Over-the-counter financial derivative instruments, such as foreign currency contracts, options contracts, futures, or swaps agreements, derive their values from underlying asset prices, indices, reference rates, other inputs or a combination of these factors. These instruments are normally valued on the basis of valuations provided by independent pricing services or broker dealer quotations. Depending on the instrument and the terms of the transaction, the value of the derivative instruments can be estimated by a pricing service provider using a series of techniques, such as simulation pricing models. The pricing models use issuer details and other inputs that are observed from actively quoted markets such as indices, spreads, interest rates, curves, dividends and exchange rates. Derivatives that use similar valuation techniques and inputs as described above are normally categorized as Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

The Fund may enter into reverse repurchase agreements. In a reverse repurchase agreement, the Fund sells to a financial institution a security that it holds with an agreement to repurchase the same security at an agreed-upon price and date. A reverse repurchase agreement involves the risk that the market value of the security may decline below the repurchase price of the security. The Fund will segregate assets determined to be liquid by the Adviser or otherwise cover its obligations under reverse repurchase agreements. As of March 31, 2014, the fund had no outstanding reverse repurchase agreements.

Certain securities may be fair valued in accordance with the fair valuation procedures approved by the Board of Trustees (the Board). The Valuation Committee is generally responsible for overseeing the day to day valuation processes and reports periodically to the Board. The Valuation Committee is authorized to make all necessary determinations of the fair values of portfolio securities and other assets for which market quotations are not readily available or if it is deemed that the prices obtained from brokers and dealers or independent pricing services are deemed to be unreliable indicators of market value. As of March 31, 2014, the Fund did not hold securities fair valued by the Valuation Committee.

The following is a summary of the fair valuations according to the inputs used to value the Fund's investments as of March 31, 2014:

B. Federal Income Taxes. The Fund has elected to be taxed as a regulated investment company and intends to distribute substantially all of its taxable income to its shareholders and otherwise comply with the provisions of Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies. Therefore, no provision for federal income taxes has been made.

The Fund may be subject to a nondeductible 4% excise tax calculated as a percentage of certain undistributed amounts of net investment income and net capital gains.

The Fund has followed the authoritative guidance on accounting for and disclosure of uncertainty in tax positions, which requires the Fund to determine whether a tax position is more likely than not to be sustained upon examination, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits of the position. The Fund has determined that there was no effect on the financial statements from following this authoritative guidance. In the normal course of business, the Fund is subject to examination by federal, state and local jurisdictions, where applicable, for tax years for which applicable statutes of limitations have not expired. The Fund identifies its major tax jurisdictions as U.S. Federal and the State of California.

C. Security Transactions, Investment Income. Investment securities transactions are accounted for on trade date. Gains and losses realized on sales of securities are determined on a specific identification basis. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis. Discounts/premiums on debt securities purchased are accreted/amortized over the life of the respective securities using the effective interest method except for certain deep discount bonds where management does not expect the par value above the bond's cost to be fully realized. Dividend income and corporate action transactions, if any, are recorded on the ex-date. Non-cash dividends included in dividend income, if any, are recorded at the fair market value of securities received. Paydown gains and losses on mortgage-related and other asset-backed securities are recorded as components of interest income on the statements of operations.

D. Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders. Dividends from net investment income will be declared and paid monthly. The Fund will distribute any net realized long or short-term capital gains at least annually. Distributions are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations which may differ from US GAAP. Permanent book and tax basis differences relating to shareholder distributions will result in reclassifications between paid-in capital, undistributed net investment income (loss), and/or undistributed (accumulated) realized gain (loss). Undistributed net investment income or loss may include temporary book and tax basis differences which will reverse in a subsequent period. Any taxable income or capital gain remaining at fiscal year end is distributed in the following year.

E. Use of Estimates. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with US GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

F. Share Valuation. The NAV per share of the Fund is calculated by dividing the sum of the value of the securities held by the Fund, plus cash and other assets, minus all liabilities (including estimated accrued expenses) by the total number of shares outstanding, rounded to the nearest cent. The Fund's net asset value will not be calculated on the days on which the NYSE is closed for trading or on days when the principal U.S. bond markets are closed, such as Columbus Day and Veterans Day.

G. Unfunded Loan Commitments. The Fund may enter into certain credit agreements, of which all or a portion may be unfunded. As of March 31, 2014, these commitments had a market value of $498,622 and are disclosed in the accompanying Schedule of Investments. The Fund may also enter into certain credit agreements designed to provide standby short term or bridge financing to a borrower. Typically the borrower is not economically incented to draw on the bridge loan and as such the likelihood of funding is remote. As of March 31, 2014, the Fund had outstanding bridge loan commitments of $6,650,000 that are not disclosed in the Schedule of Investments. The Fund is obligated to fund these commitments at the borrower's discretion. The Fund generally will maintain with its custodian liquid investments having an aggregate value at least equal to the par value of unfunded loan commitments and bridge loans.

H. Guarantees and Indemnifications. Under the Fund's organizational documents, each Trustee and officer of the Fund is indemnified, to the extent permitted by the 1940 Act, against certain liabilities that may arise out of performance of their duties to the Fund. Additionally, in the normal course of business, the Fund enters into contracts that contain a variety of indemnification clauses. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, the Fund has not had prior claims or losses pursuant to these contracts.

3. Related Party Transactions

DoubleLine Capital LP (the Adviser) provides the Fund with investment management services under an Investment Management Agreement (the Agreement). Under the Agreement, the Adviser manages the investment of the assets of the Fund, places orders for the purchase and sale of its portfolio securities and is responsible for providing certain resources to assist with the day-to-day management of the Fund's business affairs. As compensation for its services, the Adviser is entitled to a monthly fee at the annual rate 1.00% of the average daily total managed assets of the Fund. Total managed assets means the total assets of the Fund (including assets attributable to any reverse repurchase agreements, dollar roll transactions or similar transactions, borrowings, and/or preferred shares that may be outstanding) minus accrued liabilities (other than liabilities in respect of reverse repurchase agreements, dollar roll transactions or similar transactions, and borrowings). An affiliate of the Adviser owns 4,494 shares of the Fund. The Adviser has arrangements with DoubleLine Group LP to provide personnel and other resources to the Fund.

4. Purchases and Sales of Securities

For the six months ended March 31, 2014, purchases and sales of investments, excluding short-term securities, were $841,423,492 and $805,755,226, respectively. There were no transactions in long-term U.S. Government securities (defined as U.S. Treasury bills, notes and bonds) during the period.

Additionally, US GAAP require that certain components of net assets relating to permanent differences be reclassified between financial and tax reporting. These reclassifications have no effect on net assets or net asset value per share. The permanent differences primarily relate to paydown losses. For the period ended September 30, 2013, the following table shows the reclassifications made to the Fund:

7. Trustees Fees

Trustees who are not affiliated with the Adviser and its affiliates received, as a group, fees and expenses of $79,993 from the Fund during the six months ended March 31, 2014. Certain trustees and officers of the Fund are also officers of the Adviser; such trustees and officers are not compensated by the Fund.

8. Bank Loans

The Fund may make loans directly to borrowers and may acquire or invest in loans made by others (loans). The Fund may acquire a loan interest directly by acting as a member of the original lending syndicate. Alternatively, the Fund may acquire some or all of the interest of a bank or other lending institution in a loan to a particular borrower by means of a novation, an assignment or a participation. The loans in which the Fund may invest include those that pay fixed rates of interest and those that pay floating rates i.e., rates that adjust periodically based on a known lending rate, such as a bank's prime rate. The Fund records an investment when the borrower withdraws money and records the interest as earned. The Fund may purchase and sell interests in bank loans on a when-issued and delayed delivery basis, with payment delivery scheduled for a future date. Securities purchased on a delayed delivery basis are marked to market daily and no income accrues to the Fund prior to the date the Fund actually takes delivery of such securities. These transactions are subject to market fluctuations and are subject, among other risks, to the risk that the value at delivery may be more or less than the trade purchase price.

9. Credit Facility

Bank of America Merrill Lynch (BAML) has made available to the Fund a committed credit facility to add leverage to the Fund's portfolio. Borrowings under this credit facility bear interest at one month USD LIBOR plus 0.80%, which increases to one month USD LIBOR plus 1.00% effective May 30, 2014. BAML may terminate the credit facility at any time upon 180 days' prior written notice to the Fund or upon such shorter notice period as mutually agreed upon in writing by the parties. For the six months ended March 31, 2014, the interest rate was 0.96%.

As of March 31, 2014, the Fund's credit facility activity is as follows:

Maximum Amount Available	Average Borrowings	Maximum Amount Outstanding	Interest Expense
$ 1,100,000,000	$ 1,050,240,000	$ 1,095,000,000	$ 5,117,367

10. Principal Risks

Below are summaries of some, but not all, of the principal risks of investing in the Fund, each of which could adversely affect the Fund's net asset value, market price, yield, and total return. The Fund's prospectus provided additional information regarding these and other risks of investing in the Fund at the time of the initial public offering of the Fund's shares.

market discount risk: The price of the Fund's common shares of beneficial interest will fluctuate with market conditions and other factors. Shares of closed-end management investment companies frequently trade at a discount from their net asset value.

issuer risk: The value of securities may decline for a number of reasons that directly relate to the issuer, such as its financial strength, management performance, financial leverage and reduced demand for the issuer's goods and services, as well as the historical and prospective earnings of the issuer and the value of its assets.

investment and market risk: An investment in the Fund is subject to the risk of loss. The value of the Fund's securities and financial assets may move up or down, sometimes rapidly and unpredictably. Further, the value of securities held by the Fund may decline in value due to factors affecting securities markets generally or particular industries.

issuer non-diversification risk: The Fund is a non-diversified investment company and therefore may invest a greater percentage of its assets in the securities of a single issuer or a limited number of issuers than funds that are diversified. Accordingly, the Fund is more susceptible to risks associated with a single economic, political or regulatory occurrence than a diversified fund might be.

credit risk: Credit risk is the risk that one or more of the Fund's investments in debt securities or other instruments will decline in price, or fail to pay interest, liquidation value or principal when due, because the issuer of the obligation or the issuer of a reference security experiences an actual or perceived decline in its financial status.

interest rate risk: Interest rate risk is the risk that debt obligations and other instruments in the Fund's portfolio will decline in value because of increases in market interest rates.

foreign (non-U.S.) investment risk: The Fund's investments in and exposure to foreign securities involve special risks. For example, the value of these investments may decline in response to unfavorable political and legal developments, unreliable or untimely information or economic and financial instability. Foreign securities may experience more rapid and extreme changes in value than investments in securities of U.S. issuers. Investing in securities of issuers based or doing business in emerging markets entails all of the risks of investing in securities of foreign issuers, but to a heightened degree.

emerging markets risk: Investing in emerging market countries involves substantial risk due to the potential to have limited information compared to what may be available or required by more developed countries; higher brokerage costs; different accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards; the potential for less developed legal systems and thinner trading markets as compared to those in developed countries; currency blockages or transfer restrictions; an emerging market country's dependence on revenue from particular commodities or international aid; and expropriation, nationalization or other adverse political or economic developments.

mortgage-backed securities risk: The risk that borrowers may default on their mortgage obligations or the guarantees underlying the mortgage-backed securities will default and that, during periods of falling interest rates, mortgage-backed securities will be called or prepaid, which may result in the Fund having to reinvest proceeds in other investments at a lower interest rate. During periods of rising interest rates, the average life of a mortgage-backed security may extend, which may lock in a below-market interest rate, increase the security's duration, and reduce the value of the security.

sovereign debt obligations risk: Investments in countries' government debt obligations involve special risks. The issuer or governmental entity that controls the repayment of sovereign debt may not be able or willing to repay the principal and/or interest when due in accordance with the terms of such debt.

loan risk: Investments in loans are in many cases subject to the risks associated with below-investment grade securities. Investments in loans are also subject to special risks, including, among others, the risk that (i) if the Fund holds a loan through another financial institution, or relies on a financial institution to administer the loan, the Fund's receipt of principal and interest on the loan is subject to the credit risk of that financial institution; (ii) loans in which the Fund invests typically pay interest at floating rates, and the borrower may have the ability to change or adjust the interest rate on a loan or under circumstances that would be unfavorable to the Fund; (iii) it is possible that any collateral securing a loan may be insufficient or unavailable to the Fund; (iv) investments in highly leveraged loans or loans of stressed, distressed, or defaulted issuers may be subject to significant credit and liquidity risk; (v) transactions in loans may settle on a delayed basis; and (vi) loans may be difficult to value and may be illiquid, which may adversely affect an investment in the Fund.

high yield risk (junk bonds): Securities of below investment grade quality are regarded as having predominantly speculative characteristics with respect to the issuer's capacity to pay interest and to repay principal when due, and are commonly referred to as high yield securities or junk bonds. High yield securities involve a greater risk of default and their prices are generally more volatile and sensitive to actual or perceived negative developments than are the prices of higher grade securities.

leverage risk: Leverage is a speculative technique that may expose the Fund to greater risk and increased costs. When leverage is used, the net asset value and market price of the Fund's shares and the Fund's investment return will likely be more volatile.

inverse floaters and related securities risk: Investments in inverse floaters, residual interest tender option bonds and similar instruments expose the Fund to the same risks as investments in debt securities and derivatives, as well as other risks, including those associated with leverage and increased volatility. An investment in these securities typically will involve greater risk than an investment in a fixed rate security. Distributions on inverse floaters, residual interest tender option bonds and similar instruments will typically bear an inverse relationship to short term interest rates and typically will be reduced or, potentially, eliminated as interest rates rise.

foreign currency risk: The Fund's investments in or exposure to foreign currencies or in securities or instruments that trade, or receive revenues, in foreign currencies are subject to the risk that those currencies will decline in value relative to the U.S. dollar or, in the case of hedging positions (if used), that the U.S. dollar will decline in value relative to the currency being hedged.

credit default swaps risk: Credit default swaps involve greater risks than investing in the reference obligation directly as well as liquidity risk, counterparty risk and credit risk. A buyer will lose its investment and recover nothing should no event of default occur. When the Fund acts as a seller of a credit default swap, it is exposed to many of the same risks of leverage described herein since if an event of default occurs the seller must pay the buyer the full notional value of the reference obligation.

derivatives risk: Derivatives are subject to a number of risks applicable to other investments, such as liquidity risk, issuer risk, credit risk, interest rate risk, leverage risk, counterparty risk, management risk and, if applicable, smaller company risk. They also involve the risk of mispricing or improper valuation, the risk of unfavorable or ambiguous documentation, and the risk that changes in the value of a derivative may not correlate perfectly with an underlying asset, currency, interest rate or index.

counterparty risk: The Fund will be subject to credit risk with respect to the counterparties to the derivative contracts (whether a clearing corporation in the case of exchange-traded instruments or another third party in the case of over-the-counter instruments) and other instruments entered into directly by the Fund.

11. Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In June 2013, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) No. 2013-08, Financial Services Investment Companies (Topic 946): Amendments to the Scope, Measurement, and Disclosure Requirements. ASU No. 2013-08 sets forth a new approach for determining whether a public or private entity is an investment company and sets certain measurement and disclosure requirements for an investment company. ASU No. 2013-08 is effective in annual reporting periods beginning on or after December 15, 2013, and for interim periods within those annual reporting periods. Management is currently evaluating the implications of these changes and their impact on the financial statements.

12. Subsequent Events

In preparing these financial statements, the Fund has evaluated events and transactions for potential recognition or disclosure through the date the financial statements were issued. The Fund has determined there are no subsequent events that would need to be disclosed in the Fund's financial statements.

Additional Information Regarding the Fund's Investment Activities

Affiliated Investments: The Adviser is, and may be in the future, affiliated with certain large financial institutions (affiliates) that hold interests in an entity that are of a different class or type than the class or type of interest held by the Fund. Conflicts may arise in cases where the Fund and affiliates invest in different parts of an issuer's capital structure, such as when an affiliate holds securities in an entity that are senior or junior to the securities held by the Fund, which could mean that the affiliate will be entitled to different payments or other rights, or that in a workout or other distressed scenario the interests of the affiliate might be adverse to those of the Fund and the affiliate and the Fund might have disparate investment outcomes. For example, an affiliate may acquire a loan, loan participation, or a loan assignment of a particular borrower in which one or more Funds have an equity investment. In negotiating the terms and conditions of any such investments, or any subsequent amendments or waivers, the Adviser may find that its own interests, the interests of an affiliate, and/or the interests of the Fund could conflict. The Adviser may seek to avoid such conflicts in certain circumstances when investing on behalf of its clients, including the Fund, and, as a result, the Adviser may choose not to make certain investments on behalf of the Fund and/or its other clients. Those foregone investment opportunities may adversely affect the Fund's performance if similarly attractive opportunities are not available or cannot be identified.

Table of ContentsDividend Reinvestment Plan*(Unaudited)

Unless the registered owner of Common Shares elects to receive cash by contacting U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC (the Plan Administrator), all dividends, capital gains and returns of capital, if any, declared on Common Shares will be automatically reinvested by the Plan Administrator for shareholders in the Fund's Automatic Dividend Reinvestment Plan (the Plan), in additional Common Shares. Common Shareholders who elect not to participate in the Plan will receive all dividends and other distributions payable in cash directly to the shareholder of record (or, if the Common Shares are held in street or other nominee name, then to such nominee) by the Plan Administrator as dividend disbursing agent. Participation in the Plan is completely voluntary and may be terminated or resumed at any time without penalty by providing notice in writing to the Plan Administrator at least 5 days prior to the dividend/distribution record date; otherwise such termination or resumption will be effective with respect to any subsequently declared dividend or other distribution.

Whenever the Fund declares an income dividend, a capital gain distribution or other distribution (collectively referred to as dividends) payable either in shares or cash, non-participants in the Plan will receive cash and participants in the Plan will receive a number of Common Shares, determined in accordance with the following provisions. The Common Shares will be acquired by the Plan Administrator for the participants' accounts, depending upon the circumstances described below, either (i) through receipt of additional unissued but authorized Common Shares from the Fund (Newly Issued Common Shares) or (ii) by purchase of outstanding Common Shares on the open market (Open-Market Purchases) on the New York Stock Exchange or elsewhere. If, on the payment date for any Dividend, the market price per Common Share plus estimated brokerage trading fees is equal to or greater than the NAV per Common Share (such condition is referred to here as market premium), the Plan Administrator shall receive Newly Issued Common Shares, including fractions of shares from the Fund for each Plan participant's account. The number of Newly Issued Common Shares to be credited to each participant's account will be determined by dividing the dollar amount of the Dividend by the NAV per Common Share on the date of issuance; provided that, if the NAV per Common Share is less than or equal to 95% of the current market value on the date of issuance, the dollar amount of the Dividend will be divided by 95% of the market price per Common Share on the date of issuance for purposes of determining the number of shares issuable under the Plan. If, on the payment date for any Dividend, the NAV per Common Share is greater than the market value plus estimated brokerage trading fees (such condition being referred to here as a market discount), the Plan Administrator will seek to invest the Dividend amount in Common Shares acquired on behalf of the participants in Open-Market Purchases.

In the event of a market discount on the payment date for any Dividend, the Plan Administrator will have until the last business day before the next date on which the Common Shares trade on an ex-dividend basis or in no event more than 30 days after the record date for such Dividend, whichever is sooner (the Last Purchase Date), to invest the Dividend amount in Common Shares acquired in Open-Market Purchases. It is contemplated that the Fund will pay monthly Dividends. If, before the Plan Administrator has completed its Open-Market Purchases, the market price per Common Share exceeds the NAV per Common Share, the average per Common Share purchase price paid by the Plan Administrator may exceed the NAV of the Common Shares, resulting in the acquisition of fewer Common Shares than if the Dividend had been paid in Newly Issued Common Shares on the Dividend payment date. If the Plan Administrator is unable to invest the full Dividend amount in Open-Market Purchases during the purchase period or if the market discount shifts to a market premium during the purchase period, the Plan Administrator may cease making Open-Market Purchases and may instead receive the Newly Issued Common Shares from the Fund for each participant's account, in respect of the uninvested portion of the Dividend, at the NAV per Common Share at the close of business on the Last Purchase Date provided that, if the NAV is less than or equal to 95% of the then current market price per Common Share, the dollar amount of the Dividend will be divided by 95% of the market price on the date of issuance for purposes of determining the number of shares issuable under the Plan.

The Plan Administrator maintains all registered shareholders' accounts in the Plan and furnishes written confirmation of all transactions in the accounts, including information needed by shareholders for tax records. Common Shares in the account of each Plan participant will be held by the Plan Administrator in non-certificated form in the name of the Plan participant, and each shareholder proxy will include those shares purchased or received pursuant to the Plan. The Plan Administrator will forward all proxy solicitation materials to participants and vote proxies for shares held under the Plan in accordance with the instructions of the participants.

In the case of Common Shares owned by a beneficial owner but registered with the Plan Administrator in the name of a nominee, such as a bank, a broker or other financial intermediary (each, a Nominee), the Plan Administrator will administer the Plan on the basis of the number of Common Shares certified from time to time by the Nominee as participating in the Plan. The Plan Administrator will not take instructions or elections from a beneficial owner whose Common Shares are registered with the Plan Administrator in the name of a Nominee. If a beneficial owner's Common Shares are held through a Nominee and are not registered with the Plan Administrator as participating in the Plan, neither the beneficial owner nor the Nominee will be participants in or have distributions reinvested under the Plan with respect to those Common Shares. If a beneficial owner of Common Shares held in the name of a Nominee wishes to participate in the Plan, and the Shareholder's Nominee is unable or unwilling to become a registered shareholder and a Plan participant with respect to those Common Shares on the beneficial owner's behalf, the beneficial owner may request that the Nominee arrange to have all or a portion of his or her Common Shares registered with the Plan Administrator in the beneficial owner's name so that the beneficial owner may be enrolled as a participant in the Plan with respect to those Common Shares. Please contact your Nominee for details or for other possible alternatives. Participants whose shares are registered with the Plan Administrator in the name of one Nominee may not be able to transfer the shares to another firm or Nominee and continue to participate in the Plan.

There will be no brokerage charges with respect to Common Shares issued directly by the Fund as a result of dividends payable either in Common Shares or in cash. However, each participant will pay a pro rata share of brokerage trading fees incurred in connection with Open-Market Purchases. The automatic reinvestment of Dividends will not relieve participants of any federal, state or local income tax that may be payable (or required to be withheld) on such Dividends. Participants that request a sale of Common Shares through the Plan Administrator are subject to brokerage commissions.

The Fund reserves the right to amend or terminate the Plan. There is no direct service charge to participants with regard to purchases in the Plan; however, the Fund reserves the right to amend the Plan to include a service charge payable by the participants.

All correspondence, questions, or requests for additional information concerning the Plan should be directed to the Plan Administrator by calling toll-free (877) DLine11 (877-354-6311) or by writing to U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC at P.O. Box 701, Milwaukee, WI 53201. Be sure to include your name, address, daytime phone number, Social Security or tax I.D. number and a reference to DoubleLine Income Solutions Fund on all correspondence.
