CEO Roadshow Continues with Stops in Miami, Fla., U.S, Boulder, Colo., U.S and Zurich, Switzerland

Joe Almeida and Omar Ishrak recently made three stops on their CEO Roadshow.

In August, the CEOs went to Boulder, Colo., U.S. Both the R&MS and Surgical Solutions teams attended a Town Hall at the historic Boulder Theater and had an opportunity to ask questions during the Q&A portion.

Also included in their visit was a tour of the R&D facility and product demonstrations.

This was a great opportunity to hear directly from Omar and get a sense for his priorities and approach to business. We were also very pleased with the opportunity to share an overview of the R&MS business and provide a hands-on demonstration of how our technologies impact patient care in various settings.

Also in August, Joe Almeida and Omar Ishrak hosted a town hall for all LATAM Regional Headquarter office employees in Covidien's Miami, Fla., U.S. location.

Engagement was high during the presentations and employees raised many questions for both CEOs during the Q&A session.

During Joe and Omar's visit, Omar had the opportunity to meet members of the Latin America team, both from the countries and the Miami office, as well as learn about our Latin America operations overall. This is an exciting time for our companies that will take us to the next level in customer and patient care.

-Bob White, President, Emerging Markets.

During times of change, it's always important that we are communicating, and the town hall was a great platform to learn more about Medtronic. It was great to see the level of engagement of the regional team during Joe and Omar's Q&A session.

-Hugo Villegas, President, Latin America

Joe Almeida and Omar Ishrak made their most recent stop in Zurich, Switzerland, on September 16. The CEOs sat in on business reviews for both Covidien Europe and EMEA Emerging Markets, led by Cristiano Franzi and Mats Eklof, respectively.

They then headed to the World Trade Center, a short walk from the Covidien office. There, approximately 160 employees attended the Town Hall presentation, which included a Q&A session, moderated by Jacqueline Strayer, Senior Vice President, Corporate Communications.

Employees from the Covidien Europe and Europe Emerging Markets teams appreciated hearing directly from both CEOs about the strategic fit of the proposed acquisition. During two business review sessions, Omar was also given insight into our specific regions, sparking great dialogue and engagement.

Cristiano Franzi, President, Covidien Europe

Upcoming town halls: The CEOs will travel to Asia next, making stops in Shanghai and Tokyo.

Medtronic Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

Statements contained in this communication that refer to New Medtronic's and/or Medtronic's estimated or anticipated future results, including estimated synergies, or other non-historical facts are forward-looking statements that reflect Medtronic's current perspective of existing trends and information as of the date of this communication.

Forward-looking statements generally will be accompanied by words such as anticipate, believe, plan, could, should, estimate, expect, forecast, outlook, guidance, intend, may, might, will, possible, potential, probable, or similar words, phrases or expressions. It is important to note that Medtronic's goals and expectations are not predictions of actual performance. Actual results may differ materially from Medtronic's current expectations depending upon a number of factors affecting New Medtronic's business, Medtronic's business, Covidien's business and risks associated with the proposed transactions. These factors include, among others, the inherent uncertainty associated with financial projections; restructuring in connection with, and successful close of, the Covidien acquisition; subsequent integration of the Covidien acquisition and the ability to recognize the anticipated synergies and benefits of the Covidien acquisition; the risk that the required regulatory approvals for the proposed transactions are not obtained, are delayed or are subject to conditions that are not anticipated; the anticipated size of the markets and continued demand for Medtronic's and Covidien's products; the impact of competitive products and pricing; access to available financing (including financing for the acquisition or refinancing of Medtronic or Covidien debt) on a timely basis and on reasonable terms; the risks of fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates; the risks and uncertainties normally incident to the medical device industry, including competition in the medical device industry; product liability claims; the difficulty of predicting the timing or outcome of pending or future litigation or government investigations; variability of trade buying patterns; the timing and success of product launches; the difficulty of predicting the timing or outcome of product development efforts and regulatory agency approvals or actions, if any; potential for adverse pricing movement; costs and efforts to defend or enforce intellectual property rights; difficulties or delays in manufacturing; reduction or interruption in supply; product quality problems; the availability and pricing of third-party sourced products and materials; risks associated with self-insurance and commercial insurance; successful compliance with governmental regulations applicable to New Medtronic's, Medtronic's and Covidien's facilities, products and/or businesses; changes in the laws and regulations, affecting among other things, pricing and reimbursement of pharmaceutical products; health care policy changes; risks associated with international operations; changes in tax laws or interpretations that could increase New Medtronic's or Medtronic's consolidated tax liabilities, including, if the transaction is consummated, changes in tax laws that would result in New Medtronic being treated as a domestic corporation for United States federal tax purposes; the loss of key senior management or scientific staff; and such other risks and uncertainties detailed in Medtronic's periodic public filings with the SEC, including but not limited to Medtronic's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended April 25, 2014 and from time to time in Medtronic's other investor communications. Except as expressly required by law, each of New Medtronic and Medtronic disclaims any intent or obligation to update or revise these forward-looking statements.

Covidien Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

Statements contained in this communication that refer to Covidien's estimated or anticipated future results, including estimated synergies, or other non-historical facts are forward-looking statements that reflect Covidien's current perspective of existing trends and information as of the date of this communication. Forward-looking statements generally will be accompanied by words such as anticipate, believe, plan, could, should, estimate, expect, outlook, guidance, intend, may, might, will, possible, potential, predict, project, or other similar expressions. It is important to note that Covidien's goals and expectations are not predictions of actual performance. Actual results may differ materially from Covidien's current expectations depending upon a number of factors affecting Covidien's business, Medtronic's business and risks associated with the proposed transactions. These factors include, among others, the inherent uncertainty associated with financial projections; the timing to consummate the proposed transactions; the risk that a condition to closing of the proposed transactions may not be satisfied; the risk that the required regulatory approvals for the proposed transactions are not obtained, are delayed or are subject to conditions that are not anticipated; New Medtronic's ability to achieve the synergies and value creation contemplated by the proposed transactions; the anticipated size of the markets and continued demand for Medtronic's and Covidien's products; New Medtronic's ability to promptly and effectively integrate Medtronic's and Covidien's businesses; the diversion of management time on transaction-related issues; competitive factors and market conditions in the industry in which Covidien operates; Covidien's ability to obtain regulatory approval and customer acceptance of new products, and continued customer acceptance of Covidien's existing products; and the other risks identified in Covidien's periodic filings including its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended September 27, 2013, and from time to time in Covidien's other investor communications. We caution you that the foregoing list of important factors is not exclusive. In addition, in light of these risks and uncertainties, the matters referred to in Covidien's forward-looking statements may not occur. Covidien undertakes no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statement as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as may be required by law.
