Item 6. INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

Consistent with the provisions of the Israeli Companies Law, 5759-1999, as amended (the "Companies Law"), the Articles of Association of the Registrant (recently amended on July 18, 2018, the "Articles") include provisions permitting the Registrant to procure insurance coverage for its "office holders", exempt them from certain liabilities and indemnify them, to the maximum extent permitted by the Companies Law. An "office holder" is defined in the Companies Law and the Articles as a director, general manager (CEO), chief business manager, deputy general manager, vice president, other manager reporting directly to the general manager and any other person assuming the responsibilities of any of the foregoing positions without regard to such person's title.

INSURANCE

Under the Companies Law, a company may obtain insurance for any of its office holders, acting in such capacity, in any of the following cases: (i) a breach of the duty of care towards the company or towards another person; (ii) a breach of the duty of loyalty towards the company, provided that the office holder acted in good faith and had reasonable cause to assume that his act would not prejudice the company's interests; (iii) a monetary obligation imposed upon the office holder in favor of another person; (iv) (a) expenses, including reasonable litigation expenses and legal fees, incurred by the office holder as a result of a proceeding instituted against such office holder in relation to (A) infringements that may result in imposition of financial sanction pursuant to the provisions of Chapter H'3 under the Israeli Securities Law, 1968 (the "Securities Law") or (B) administrative infringements pursuant to the provisions of Chapter H'4 under the Securities Law or (C) infringements pursuant to the provisions of Chapter I'1 under the Securities Law; and (b) payments made to the injured parties of such infringement under Section 52ND(a)(1)(a) of the Securities Law.

The Registrant has obtained directors' and office holders' liability insurance covering its office holders and directors and those of its subsidiaries.

INDEMNIFICATION

The Companies Law provides that a company may indemnify office holders for an obligation or expense as specified below, imposed on them in consequence of an act or omission done in their capacity as an officer in the Company:

i. a monetary obligation imposed in favor of another person pursuant to a judgment, including a judgment given in a settlement or an arbitrator's award that has been approved by a court;

ii. reasonable litigation expenses, including advocates' professional fees, incurred by the office holder pursuant to an investigation or a proceeding commenced against him by a competent authority and that was terminated without an indictment and without having a monetary charge imposed on him in lieu of a criminal procedure (as such terms are defined in the Companies Law), or that was terminated without an indictment but with a monetary charge imposed on him in lieu of a criminal procedure in a crime that does not require proof of criminal intent or in connection with a financial sanction;

iii. reasonable litigation expenses, including advocates' professional fees, incurred by the office holder or which he is ordered to pay by a court, in proceedings filed against him by the company or on its behalf or by another person, or in a criminal indictment in which he is acquitted, or in a criminal indictment in which he is convicted of an offence that does not require proof of criminal intent;

- expenses, including reasonable litigation expenses and legal fees, incurred by an office holder as a result of a proceeding instituted against such office holder in relation to (A) infringements that may result in imposition of
- iv. financial sanction pursuant to the provisions of Chapter H'3 under the Securities Law or (B) administrative infringements pursuant to the provisions of Chapter H'4 under the Securities Law or (C) infringements pursuant to the provisions of Chapter I'1 under the Securities Law; and
- v. payments to an injured party of infringement under Section 52ND(a)(1)(a) of the Securities Law.

The Articles of the Registrant authorize the Registrant to indemnify its office holders to the fullest extent permitted under the Companies Law. The Companies Law also authorizes a company to undertake in advance to indemnify an office holder with respect to events specified above, provided that, with respect to indemnification under sub-section (i) above, the undertaking: (a) is limited to events which the board of directors determines can be anticipated, based on the activity of the company at the time the undertaking is given; (b) is limited in amount or criteria determined by the board of directors to be reasonable under the circumstances; and (c) specifies the said events and the amounts or criteria.

The Registrant has entered into indemnification agreements with its directors and some of its office holders providing for indemnification under certain circumstances for acts and omissions which may not be covered (or not be covered in full) by any directors' and office holders' liability insurance. Such form of indemnification agreement (which also provides for exemption to the extent permitted by law, and explained further below) is included as Exhibit 4.3 to this Registration Statement.

EXEMPTION

Under the Companies Law, an Israeli company may not exempt an office holder from liability for a breach of his duty of loyalty, but may exempt in advance an office holder from liability to the company, in whole or in part, for a breach of the duty of care, provided that in no event shall the office holder be exempt from any liability for damages caused as a result of a breach of his duty of care to the company in the event of a "distribution" (as defined in the Companies Law). The Articles of the Registrant authorize the Registrant to exempt any office holder from liability to the Registrant to the extent permitted by the Companies Law.

Both the Companies Law and the Articles provide that the Registrant may not exempt or indemnify an office holder nor enter into an insurance contract which would provide coverage for liability incurred as a result of any of the following: (a) a breach by the office holder of the duty of loyalty (however, the Registrant may insure and indemnify against such breach if the office holder acted in good faith and had a reasonable basis to assume that the act would not harm the Registrant); (b) a breach by the office holder of the duty of care if the breach was made intentionally or recklessly, unless made in negligence only; (c) any act done with the intent to derive an illegal personal benefit; or (d) any fine or monetary penalty levied against the office holder.

Item 7. EXEMPTION FROM REGISTRATION CLAIMED.

Not applicable.
