Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On October 14, 2015, Blonder Tongue Laboratories, Inc. (the “Company”), R. L. Drake Holdings, LLC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company (“RLD” and with the Company, collectively, “Borrower”), and Santander Bank, N.A. (“Santander”) entered into a Tenth Amendment to Revolving Credit, Term Loan and Security Agreement (the “Tenth Amendment”), to amend, effective as of September 30, 2015, that certain Revolving Credit, Term Loan and Security Agreement dated August 6, 2008, as amended by the previous nine amendments (as amended to date including the Tenth Amendment, collectively, the “Loan Agreement”).

The Tenth Amendment extends the increase in the advance rate applicable to Eligible Inventory (as defined in the Santander Agreement) from 25% to 35% through and until November 30, 2015, after which it will revert back to 25%. The Tenth Amendment also contains other customary representations, covenants, terms and conditions. In connection with the Tenth Amendment, the Company paid Santander an amendment fee of $5,000.

The foregoing summary of the Tenth Amendment is not complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Tenth Amendment attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1, which is incorporated herein by reference.

Item 2.03 Creation of a Direct Financial Obligation

The information contained in Item 1.01 above is hereby incorporated by reference into this Item 2.03. Upon a default under the Loan Agreement, including the non-payment of principal or interest, the obligations of the Company under the Loan Agreement may be accelerated and the assets securing the obligations secured.

Item 8.01. Other Events

The Company continued to experience lower than anticipated sales during the third quarter of 2015, which calls into question whether sales levels will recover to historical norms during the fourth quarter of 2015. As a result, the Company’s liquidity position has not improved during the third quarter of 2015. In light of these developments, the Company is taking a more defensive posture and developing plans for managing operations through a more extended period of diminished sales levels than originally expected. The Company has implemented its third phase of cost reduction measures, which are anticipated to further reduce annualized expenses by approximately $750,000. As noted in our most recent prior Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, if anticipated operating results are not achieved, further reductions in operating expenses may need to be substantial and could have a material adverse effect on the Company’s ability to achieve its intended business objectives.

In addition to seeking to refinance its outstanding indebtedness with Santander that is due on February 1, 2016, the Company is also evaluating other options to resolve its liquidity issues, including exploring alternative sources of additional capital. If Santander does not agree to extend the advance rate beyond November 30, 2015, then the Company will need to secure alternative source of additional capital or refinance the Company’s existing bank debt in order to maintain sufficient liquidity to continue operating the business over the next twelve months. While the Company believes it will be able to extend the advance rate, refinance and find alternative sources of additional capital, there can be no assurances that a refinancing, extension or other sources of additional capital will be available on acceptable terms or at all.
