Relevant application for permission is being considered by NDRC and will require submission to the State Council for approval.

  - (a) the NDRC; and

The Board currently proposes to use the net proceeds from the Domestic Corporate Bond Issue for the 1 million tonne/annum ethylene and ancillary project of Sinopec Corp. Tianjin Branch Company (the "Tianjin Ethylene Project"), the 1 million tonne/annum ethylene project of Sinopec Corp. Zhenhai Refining Branch Company (the "Zhenhai Ethylene Project"), the 800,000 tonne/annum ethylene upgrade project of the Sinopec Corp. ### 4. RECOMMENDATION

The directors believe that the Domestic Corporate Bond Issue will improve the company's debt structure and reduce cost of financing.

At present, Sinopec Corp.'s debt financing is mainly through indirect financing means, such as bank loans. Direct debt financing, especially long term direct debt financing, is comparatively low. Through issuing long term corporate bonds, Sinopec Corp. could increase the proportion of direct debt financing and obtain stable and long term source of funding. It also corresponds with long term construction and payout period of projects of Sinopec Corp..

The Domestic Corporate Bond Issue could also reduce cost of financing and enhance shareholders' return. At present, the current basis interest rate of bank loans in the PRC for more than 5 years announced by the People's

Edgar Filing: CHINA PETROLEUM & CHEMICAL CORP - Form 6-K

Bank of China is 6.84% per annum. The prime rate obtainable by Sinopec Corp. from financial institutions could be 10 percent lower from such basis rate, being 6.156%. Based on preliminary determinations of current market conditions, the interest rate of corporate bonds will be apparently lower than the interest rate for borrowings from financial institutions.

5. EGM

Sinopec Corp. is preparing to convene the EGM on or about 22 January 2007. A circular containing further details of the proposed resolutions, together with the relevant notices of meeting, will be sent to the Shareholders in due course.
