Crown Crafts is ideally positioned, both operationally and financially, to aggressively pursue our strategic vision and build on our annualized five-year total shareholder return performance of 49.3%, said E. Randall Chestnut, the Company's Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer. In the challenging 2010 fiscal year, we delivered a 23% increase in shareholders' equity and achieved the Company's highest Adjusted EBITDA since 1998. We are poised to build on that value creation momentum, in line with a recovering economy. Several new placements with key retailers are expected to drive organic growth, coupled with our successful integration of the four accretive, higher-margin strategic acquisitions we have completed in the past four years. We also see tremendous opportunities on a global basis and intend to build on our international sales, which grew 164% over the past year and now exceed 10% of the total sales of our branded products.

Chestnut continued, "Financially, we have a very strong balance sheet and have reduced debt from $48 million in 2001 to $5.1 million at the end of fiscal 2010, of which $3.8 million is non-interest bearing. Our Board and management team are keenly focused on delivering sustained shareholder value creation through our renewed dividend yield and prudently timed uses of cash in fiscal 2011 and beyond.

The Company intends to release the results of its operations for the first quarter of fiscal 2011 before the market opens on August 11, 2010. Chestnut and Olivia W. Elliott, Chief Financial Officer, will host a teleconference at 1:00 p.m. Central Daylight Time on that day to discuss the Company's results and answer appropriate questions.

In addition to the Company's disclosure of its financial position and results of operations in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP), the Company has also disclosed certain measures of its financial position and results of operations which are not determined in accordance with GAAP. These non-GAAP financial measures include the discussion of the Company's debt on a net-of-cash basis and Adjusted EBITDA, which excludes an impairment charge associated with an asset held for sale in fiscal year 2010 and the Company's anticipated costs associated with its proxy contest in fiscal year 2011. Adjusted EBITDA is used by the Company internally to monitor the Company's operating results and cash flow and to evaluate the performance of its businesses. The Company believes that its presentation of Adjusted EBITDA is useful in that it is an important indicator of the Company's ability to generate cash sufficient to reduce debt, make strategic acquisitions and investments in capital expenditures, pay dividends and meet its working capital requirements and other obligations as they become due. The items excluded to calculate Adjusted EBITDA are significant components that should be considered in understanding and assessing the Company's financial performance. In addition, although the Company analyzes its debt position internally on a net-of-cash basis, GAAP permits such an offsetting presentation of these amounts only in limited circumstances. The non-GAAP financial measures are presented as supplemental information and should be considered in addition to, and not as a substitute for, the Company's GAAP financial measures, including its debt balances, net income or loss, cash flow provided by or used in operating, investing or financing activities, and other measures of the Company's financial performance and liquidity. Because non-GAAP financial measures, by definition, are not determined in accordance with GAAP, companies calculate them in varying ways. Therefore, the non-GAAP financial measures presented by the Company may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies.
