ISS RECOMMENDS VOTING "FOR" NORTHFIELD DIRECTOR NOMINEES

EVANSTON, ILLINOIS, SEPTEMBER 4, 2002 - NORTHFIELD LABORATORIES INC. (NASDAQ/NMS: NFLD) today announced that Institutional Shareholder Services, the nation's leading independent voting advisory firm, has recommended that its clients vote in favor of Northfield's seven director nominees at the annual meeting of shareholders to be held on September 13, 2002.

ISS, whose voting analyses and recommendations are relied upon by hundreds of major institutional investment firms, mutual funds and fiduciaries throughout the United States, stated, "The company is at a critical stage in its development. Management's primary goal is to resolve the FDA status for PolyHeme. As such, it is vital for the board to be equipped with highly qualified directors who have the appropriate expertise. In comparison to Mr. Coates's slate, it appears that management's new nominees provide more relevant expertise to the board. Furthermore, there is no compelling evidence to suggest that the board needs to be overseen by a dissident slate of independent directors."

ISS also advised its members to discard the white proxy cards distributed by dissident shareholder C. Robert Coates.

Edgar Filing: NORTHFIELD LABORATORIES INC /DE/ - Form DEFA14A

Steven A. Gould, M.D., Northfield's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, said, "We are gratified that ISS, after carefully considering the positions of both Northfield and Mr. Coates, has recommended that its members support the Company's director nominees. We view the ISS analysis as an important, independent confirmation of the Board's continuing effort to protect and enhance value for all Northfield shareholders."

Dr. Gould urged shareholders to act today by signing, dating and returning their BLUE proxy cards.

Northfield Laboratories Inc. is a leading developer of an oxygen-carrying blood substitute for trauma and elective surgery situations.

Statements in this release that are not strictly historical are "forward-looking" statements that are made pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, which may cause the company's actual results in the future to differ materially from expected results. These risks include, among others: competition from other blood substitute products; the company's ability to obtain regulatory approval to market PolyHeme commercially; the company's and/or its representative's ability to successfully market and sell PolyHeme; the company's ability to manufacture PolyHeme in sufficient quantities; the company's ability to obtain an adequate supply of raw materials; the company's ability to maintain intellectual property protection for its proprietary product and to defend its existing intellectual property rights from challenges by third parties; the availability of capital to finance planned growth; and the extent to which the hospitals and physicians using PolyHeme are able to obtain third-party reimbursement, as described in the company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
