In addition, this Report on Form 6-K may include forward-looking statements relating to the Company's potential exposure to various types of market risks, such as interest rate risk, foreign exchange rate risk and commodity price risk. Reliance should not be placed on forward-looking statements because they involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which are in some cases beyond the control of the Company, together with its subsidiaries (the "Group"), and may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of the Group to differ materially from anticipated future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements (and from past results, performance or achievements). Certain factors that may cause such differences include but are not limited to: the impact of the global economic downturn, the risk that the European acquisition (the "Acquisition") will not be integrated successfully or such integration may be more difficult, time consuming or costly than expected, expected revenue synergies and cost savings from the Acquisition may not be fully realized or realized within the expected time frame, revenues following the Acquisition may be lower than expected, any anticipated benefits from the consolidation of the European paper business may not be achieved, the highly cyclical nature of the pulp and paper industry (and the factors that contribute to such cyclicity, such as levels of demand, production capacity, production, input costs including raw material, energy and employee costs, and pricing), adverse changes in the markets for the group's products, consequences of substantial leverage, including as a result of adverse changes in credit markets that affect our ability to raise capital when needed, changing regulatory requirements, possible early termination of alternative fuel tax credits, unanticipated production disruptions (including as a result of planned or unexpected power outages), economic and political conditions in international markets, the impact of investments, acquisitions and dispositions (including related financing), any delays, unexpected costs or other problems experienced with integrating acquisitions and achieving expected savings and synergies and currency fluctuations. These and other risks, uncertainties and factors are discussed in the Company's Annual Report on Form 20-F and other filings with and submissions to the Securities and Exchange Commission, including this Report on Form 6-K. Shareholders and prospective investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are made as of the date of the submission of this Report on Form 6-K and are not intended to give any assurance as to future results. The Company undertakes no obligation to publicly update or revise any of these forward looking statements, whether to reflect new information or future events or circumstances or otherwise.

Sappi calls for speedy end to Stevedores strike in Finland

Sappi today called upon all parties involved in the Stevedores strike in Finland to redouble their efforts to find a speedy resolution to the impasse which has led to an effective blockade on the export of paper and pulp from Finland since 04 March 2010.

In reaction to the strike Berry Wiersum, the CEO of Sappi Fine Paper Europe said: “The global economic recession of 2009 had a significant impact on Sappi in Europe. However, the subsequent healthy improvement in demand for Sappi’s products confirmed that a sustained recovery was underway. Unfortunately this recovery is weakest in the mechanical coated market which has led to the closure of Sappi’s Kangas Mill. It is therefore very disappointing that the industrial action by the Stevedores threatens to delay this recovery even further.”

Sappi, the leading producer of coated fine paper in Europe and globally, invested some €750 million at the end of 2008 to acquire the coated graphics business of M-Real OYj, thereby becoming one of the largest foreign investors into Finland. Sappi’s Kirkniemi Mill in Lohja, a world class asset producing the Galerie brand of coated mechanical paper for many of the world’s leading magazines and journals, has had to cease production in line with actions taken by the rest of the industry. To minimise the impact on customers once the possibility of a strike became apparent, Sappi shipped orders early and some production was moved to other operations in Europe.

Commenting on the prolonged nature of the dispute, Ralph Boöttger, the CEO of Sappi Limited said: “The pulp and paper industry in Finland has an enviable global reputation for excellence, responsibility and reliability. We therefore very much hope that the strike will be resolved quickly.”
