PART 1

ITEM 1. BUSINESS

GENERAL DEVELOPMENT OF BUSINESS

Alanco Technologies, Inc. was incorporated in 1969 under the laws of the State of Arizona. Unless otherwise noted, the "Company" or "Alanco" refers to Alanco Technologies, Inc. and its wholly owned subsidiaries.

Alanco (Nasdaq: ALAN) is a provider of advanced information technology solutions with the Company's operations at the end of fiscal 2003 diversified into two reporting business segments including: (i) design, production, marketing and distribution of RFID (Radio Frequency Identification) tracking technology, and (ii) manufacturing, marketing and distribution of data storage products.

In May 2002, the Company acquired RFID (Radio Frequency Identification) tracking technology through the acquisition of the operations of Technology Systems International, Inc., a Nevada corporation ("TSIN"). The Company continues to participate in the data storage market through two wholly-owned subsidiaries: Arraid, Inc., a manufacturer of proprietary storage products to upgrade older "legacy" computer systems; and Excel/Meridian Data, Inc., a manufacturer of Network Attached Storage ("NAS") systems for mid-range organizations. During fiscal year 2002, the Company also substantially liquidated, due to continued operating losses, SanOne, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary that had been created to enter the Storage Area Network ("SAN") market.

Prior to the May 2002 closing of the acquisition of the RFID tracking technology, the Company exchanged its investment in Gold & Minerals, Inc. ("G&M"), a private Arizona-based mining company, for approximately 8.9% of the outstanding shares of TSIN. Since the purchase consideration for the RFID tracking technology was Alanco stock (both a fixed number of shares to be paid at closing and a significant contingent payout based on Technology Systems International, Inc., an Arizona Corporation ("TSIA") operating results) the Company recorded, during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2002, an asset impairment charge of $2.1 million to reduce the investment valuation to approximately $375,000, the estimated value of 8.9% of the shares to be issued to TSIN at closing, the only shares guaranteed to be issued.

RECENT BUSINESS DEVELOPMENTS

In September 2003, President Bush signed into law new legislation that will create national standards for detection and prevention of prison rape and provide state prison systems with $40.0 million annually in federal matching grants to combat the problem. The Company believes the new law will accelerate adoption of its TSI PRISM(TM) continuous tracking technology in the nation's prisons; accordingly, the Company announced a new initiative to assist states to deploy its unique technology by accessing the federal matching grants available through the new law.

ALANCO TECHNOLOGIES, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

RFID TECHNOLOGY SEGMENT

During fiscal year 2002, the Company acquired the operations of Technology Systems International, Inc. ("TSIN"), developer of the proprietary TSI PRISM(TM) wireless RFID tracking technology utilized primarily in correctional facilities security management and personnel monitoring. The acquisition was effected through a wholly owned subsidiary, Technology Systems International, Inc., an Arizona corporation ("TSIA") by the issuance of Alanco Class A Common Stock to purchase TSIN's assets and assumption of specific TSIN liabilities. The all-stock transaction was approved at a May 14, 2002 Special Shareholders Meeting, which authorized the stock issuance. The transaction's effective closing date was June 1, 2002. See Footnote 14 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further discussion of the TSIA acquisition.

TSIN had recently completed a seven-year development program, investing over $17 million into research and development of the TSI PRISM(TM) technology, including test installation sites. Commencing a national sales program in fiscal year 2001, TSIN completed the installation of its first $1 million commercial installation at a Midwest prison facility in May 2002. By June 30, 2002, the TSIA operations (both under TSIN and TSIA) had received approximately $5 million in contracts, of which approximately $1 million had been completed prior to the June 2002 acquisition.

Marketing. TSIA markets its TSI PRISM(TM) RFID tracking system primarily in the United States, through independent sales representatives and Company direct sales representatives. The primary focus of the marketing effort has been on the domestic correctional facilities market.

Raw Materials. The RFID Technology segment utilizes various domestic subcontractors for materials and parts used to manufacture its products. Due to the advantage of volume manufacturing, one domestic supplier represented approximately 49% and a second domestic supplier represented approximately 21% of the segment's purchases of material and parts for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2003. Additionally, one subcontractor who accounted for approximately $990,000 in installation billings during the twelve months ended June 30, 2003 completed all subcontracted installations.

The Company anticipates continued concentration of vendor purchases; however, additional suppliers are readily available at competitive pricing levels. The Company does not foresee any future significant shortages or substantial price increases that cannot be recovered from its customers.

Competitive Conditions. The TSI PRISM(TM) is the only known wireless RFID continuous real-time tracking technology currently available to the correctional facilities market. There are other companies attempting to introduce area location and monitoring technologies in the correctional facilities market, offering an area or zone detection system. However, at this time these technologies are not capable of providing continuous real-time tracking.

Employees. As of June 30, 2003 and 2002, the Company's RFID tracking segment employed twelve and fifteen full-time employees, respectively.

Seasonality of Business. Location and tracking products have minimal seasonality. However, many of the products in this segment are marketed to state and federal government customers that have been affected by annual budget schedules and economic conditions.

Dependence Upon Key Customers. The RFID Technology segment is in an early stage of commercial market development, commencing national sales efforts in fiscal year 2001. Targeted customers operate the majority of the prisons in the United States and include the 50 state governments and the federal government. During the twelve months ended June 30, 2003, substantially all revenues recognized were generated from two Midwestern state governments, one accounting for 80.2% and the second accounting for 19.5% of the reported revenues for the period. The Company anticipates that as market penetration of its TSI PRISM(TM) technology accelerates, the Company will have numerous customers. However, due to the type of product sold by the RFID Technology segment, the size of each contract may continue to be significant.

Backlog Orders. The Company operates using order contracts that it considers to be firm and non-cancelable. Under this method, the Company had unfulfilled contracts as of June 30, 2002 of approximately $3.8 million. As of June 30, 2003, the Company was in negotiation with a number of prospective customers, but did not have any unfulfilled contracts.

ALANCO TECHNOLOGIES, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

Research & Development The Company estimated that the TSIA operation spent approximately $150,000 and $250,000 in research and development expenditures, recorded as selling, general and administrative expense, during fiscal years 2003 and 2002, respectively.

COMPUTER DATA STORAGE SEGMENT

The Company's Computer Data Storage segment consists primarily of two separate units, Arraid, Inc. ("Arraid") and Excel/Meridian Data, Inc. ("Excel"). Phoenix, Arizona-based Arraid, manufacturer of legacy computer data storage solutions, was acquired effective October 1999. Excel, a Dallas, Texas-based provider of data storage networking products and services, was acquired effective June 2000.

The Company expanded into the Storage Area Network (SAN) market during fiscal year 2000 with the formation of SanOne, Inc. ("SanOne"). Due to significant operating losses incurred by SanOne in both fiscal year 2001 and 2002, the SanOne business was closed and the subsidiary substantially liquidated during the fiscal year 2002.

Arraid designs and manufactures proprietary data storage subsystems called "emulators" that serve as translators between older "legacy" computers and state-of-the-art storage devices and provides unique, cost-effective storage system solutions. Arraid's unique products are targeted at users of special application legacy computers, such as airplane flight simulators, nuclear power control systems, missile tracking computer systems, etc. Its competitive position was recently enhanced by the development of its ESP-1 single board computer, which will reduce product development time and costs, as well as allow Arraid to enter significant new market niches.

Excel is a manufacturer and marketer of data storage networking products and is recognized as a leading provider of optical storage devices, such as CD/DVD-ROM servers. Excel also markets a Network Attached Storage ("NAS") product line and other storage products incorporating state-of-the-art software technology.

During fiscal years ended June 30, 2003 and 2002, the Company reviewed goodwill and other recorded intangible assets in compliance with the Company's policy to determine appropriateness of valuation and presentation of those assets based upon the implementation of SFAS No. 142. As a result of that review, the Company reduced the carrying values of goodwill and other intangible assets related to the data storage segment by recording an asset impairment charge of $1.39 million during fiscal year ended June 30, 2002. No adjustment was deemed necessary for fiscal year 2003.

Marketing. Arraid markets legacy storage solutions nationally and internationally through company sales representatives and independent distributors. Excel markets optical storage and NAS products, primarily in the United States, through national advertising, telemarketing and company sales representatives.

Raw Materials. The computer data storage operations have numerous domestic sources for materials and parts used to manufacture their products. For fiscal year 2003 and 2002, no supplier provided 10% or more of the Company's data storage material and parts purchases. The Company believes that it has an adequate supply of materials and parts and does not foresee any significant shortages or substantial price increases that cannot be passed on to the customers.

Competitive Conditions. There are numerous competitors in the computer data storage market, with no company dominating the market. Arraid principally provides a unique storage solution to a limited market with minimal direct competitors. Excel competes with many established companies in the general storage market and many of these companies may have substantially greater financial, marketing and technological resources, larger distribution capabilities, earlier access to customers and more opportunities to address customers' various information storage requirements than the Company. The Company also competes with many smaller, less established companies in specific storage product segments. Some of these companies may have earlier access to new technologies or products than the Company. The announcement or introduction of new products and/or implementation of effective marketing strategies by its competitors may have a materially adverse affect on the Company's business.

Employees. As of June 30, 2003, the Company's computer data storage business employed twenty-five full-time employees, compared to thirty-five full-time employees as of June 30, 2002.

Seasonality of Business. Computer data storage products have minimal seasonality. However, many of the products in this segment are marketed to business customers, which in some cases can be significantly affected by budget restraints and economic conditions.

Dependence Upon Key Customers. During fiscal years ended June 30, 2003 and 2002, no customer accounted for 10% or more of revenues.

Backlog Orders. The Company operates using customer purchase orders that in some cases may not be considered firm and non-cancelable. Methods of defining a firm "Backlog Order" are being evaluated, and if the Company utilizes that information in evaluating sales activity, the information will be reported.

Research & Development. The Company estimates it spent approximately $150,000 in research and development expenditures, recorded as selling, general and administrative expense, for both fiscal years 2003 and 2002.

DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS

The Company's continuing operations for both fiscal years 2003 and 2002 are limited to the RFID Technology segment and Computer Data Storage segment discussed above. Pollution Control Products, Restaurant Equipment, and Mining segments are reported as "discontinued operations" for both the current and prior fiscal years.

During fiscal year 2001, the Company completed the sale of its subsidiary, Alanco Environmental Technologies (Beijing) Co., Ltd., and the patents related to Charged Dry Sorbent Injection (CDSI) technology to a private New Jersey corporation. The sales proceeds consist of cash and notes receivable through 2004. $252,000 of the projected gain was recognized during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2001 with the balance of the gain deferred and netted against the note receivable until payment is received. See note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further discussion of notes receivable related to the sale of the CDSI technology. The transaction completed the sale of the Company's remaining Pollution Control Products assets.

At June 30, 2003 and 2002 all of the pollution control products and mining assets had been sold. Assets classified at year-end on the Company's balance sheet as "net assets held for sale" consist of the remaining Restaurant Equipment segment assets, which are valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value.

ITEM 2. PROPERTIES

The Company's corporate office and the TSIA operation are located in an approximate 9,300 square foot leased facility in Scottsdale, Arizona. The current lease expires on July 31, 2007.

During fiscal year 2003, Arraid operated under a month-to-month lease in anticipation of negotiating a lease extension. In August of 2003, Arraid entered into a 5,200 square foot office/manufacturing space lease at a new Phoenix, Arizona location. The new three-year lease expires on August 31, 2006.

During fiscal year 2001, Excel/Meridian Data, Inc. entered into an office/manufacturing space lease for 11,328 square feet in Carrollton, Texas. The five-year lease expires March 15, 2006.

Mining Claim Properties. The Company's last remaining mining interest consisted of a small milling site known as the Tombstone Metallurgical Facility or mill site located in Cochise County, near Tombstone, Arizona. At June 30, 2002, management was in the process of permanently closing the site under a plan approved by the Bureau of Land Management ("BLM"). The site was permanently closed during the current fiscal year.

Environmental Disclosure. There are numerous federal and state laws and regulations relating to environmental protection that have direct application to mining, milling and mineralized material processing operations. The more significant of these laws deals with mined land reclamation and wastewater discharge from such operations.

The Tombstone Metallurgical Facility was located on federal lands that are administered by the BLM. The mill site facility had been constructed in the 1970's when no permitting from the BLM was required. The Company believes it has complied with all regulations, as they existed; however, there can be no assurance that environmental problems will not be discovered in the future. During fiscal year 2003, the Company closed the Tombstone Metallurgical Facility under a closure plan approved and monitored by the BLM. The site closure was accomplished by dismantling and removing the facilities and by completing required environmental and/or surface reclamation. The Company is not aware of any material environmental claims or violations. Expenditures during fiscal years 2003 and 2002 related to environmental regulations, including those related to the closure of the Tombstone Metallurgical Facility, amounted to less than $20,000.

ITEM 3. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

The Company is a party to litigation that relates to the acquisition, in May of 2002, of substantially all the assets of Technology Systems International, Inc., a Nevada Corporation, and to litigation arising from an expired property lease between the Company's subsidiary, Arraid, Inc., and Arraid Property L.L.C., a Limited Liability Company. The actions are more fully described below:

On January 30, 2003, Richard C. Jones, a shareholder of Technology

Systems International, Inc., a Nevada corporation ("TSIN"), filed a derivative suit naming as defendants the Company and its wholly owned subsidiary, Technology Systems International, Inc., an Arizona corporation ("TSIA"), and all of the directors of TSIN. The venue for this action is the Arizona Superior Court in and for Maricopa County, Arizona, as case number CV2003-001937. The complaint sets forth various allegations and seeks equitable remedies and damages arising out of the Company's acquisition of substantially all of the assets of TSIN. This derivative suit was terminated and the action converted into a direct action by TSIN by stipulation and court order in July 2003. The Company's management, in consultation with legal counsel, believes the plaintiff's claims are without merit and the Company will aggressively defend the action.

On July 18, 2003, Arraid Property L.L.C., an Arizona Limited Liability Company ("Arraid LLC"), filed a complaint in Superior Court, Arizona (case number CV 2003-13999) against the Company and its wholly owned subsidiary, Arraid, Inc., an Arizona corporation ("Arraid"), alleging breach of lease and unjust enrichment and seeking monetary damages. The suit relates to an expired lease agreement for property previously leased by Arraid. The Company has filed a counterclaim against Arraid LLC, and a third party complaint against John Dahl, Frank Meijers and Keith Blaich (all owners of Arraid LLC and previous employees of the Company) seeking monetary damages and alleging, among other things, excess billing and unjust enrichment. The Company's management, in consultation with legal counsel, believes the plaintiff's claims are without merit and the Company will aggressively defend the action and pursue the counterclaims and third party claims specified.

No amounts have been accrued in the accompanying financial statements of the company as of June 30, 2003 for any potential loss arising from these matters, or for any additional costs of defense.

The Company may also, from time to time, be involved in litigation arising from the normal course of the business. As of June 30, 2003, there was no such litigation pending.

ITEM 4. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS

No matters were submitted to a vote of the Shareholders during the fourth quarter of fiscal year ended June 30, 2003.

ITEM 5. MARKET FOR THE REGISTRANT'S COMMON EQUITY AND RELATED STOCKHOLDER MATTERS

Alanco's common stock is traded on the NASDAQ Small Cap Market under the symbol "ALAN."

The following table sets forth high and low sale prices for each fiscal quarter for the last two fiscal years. Such quotations represent inter-dealer price without retail mark-ups, markdowns, or commissions and, accordingly, may not represent actual transactions.

	Fiscal 2003		Fiscal 2002

December 31	$0.74	$0.46	$0.95	$0.63
March 31	$0.62	$0.38	$0.89	$0.45
June 30	$0.50	$0.23	$0.80	$0.40

As of June 30, 2003, Alanco had approximately 1,800 holders of record of its Class A Common Stock. This does not include beneficial owners holding shares in street name.

ALANCO TECHNOLOGIES INC., AND SUBSIDIARIES

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2003, the Company issued 3,093,500 shares of its unregistered, restricted Class A Common Stock to accredited investors. Of those shares, 3,000,000 were issued in connection with a private offering in December 2002; the balance of 93,500 shares was issued for services rendered.

During the fourth quarter of the fiscal year ended June 30, 2003, the Company allocated 5,000,000 of the authorized 25,000,000 No Par Preferred Stock to be known as Series A Convertible Stock ("Series A") and issued 2,248,400 shares of Series A in a transaction with accredited investors. The Company exchanged a Series A share and warrant to purchase a share of the Company's Class A Common Stock at $0.50 ("Warrant") for two shares of Class A Common Stock ("Common") and $0.50. The transaction recorded at June 30, 2003 was valued at $2,833,000, including cash received of $1,124,200 and 4,496,900 Common shares received (valued at $1,708,800). The Common shares acquired under this transaction (valued at market price on the date of the subscription agreement) are presented as Treasury shares at year-end. See Footnote 12 - Shareholders' Equity for additional discussion of Preferred Stock.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2002, the Company issued 8,839,200 shares of its unregistered, restricted Class A Common Stock to accredited investors. Of those shares, 7,000,000 were issued in connection with the acquisition of TSI operations in May 2002, including 1,000,000 shares issued to convert debt to equity. (See Footnote 14 - Acquisition for additional discussion); 1,480,000 were issued in connection with a private offering in December 2001 and January 2002; and 250,000 were issued in connection with a private offering by the Company in May 2002. The balance of 109,200 shares was issued for services rendered. The shares issued for services during the fiscal year 2003 and 2002 were valued at fair market value based on the average closing price for ten consecutive trading days at which the stock was listed on the NASDAQ quotation system, ending on the day prior to the date on which the service agreement was reached.

In addition to the Common shares issued during fiscal 2002, the Company allocated 500,000 of the authorized shares of the Company's No Par Preferred Stock to be known as Series B Convertible Preferred Stock ("Series B"), and in a transaction with an accredited investor, the Company issued 50,000 shares of Series B at $10.00 per share and 500,000 warrants to purchase Common Stock at an exercise price of $1.00 per share for a value received of $500,000 ($487,300 net of related expenses). The Preferred shares are each convertible into thirteen (13) Shares of Common Stock and are characterized as "restricted securities" under federal securities laws, as they were acquired from the Company in a transaction not involving a public offering, and under such laws and applicable regulations, such shares may be resold without registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, only in certain limited circumstances. The Series B shareholders may, at any time after the third (3rd) anniversary of the date of issuance of the shares, demand the Company redeem the Series B at a redemption price of $10.00 per share. The shares may be redeemed by the Company paying the aggregate redemption price in cash, or by paying the aggregate redemption price in Common Stock value at market price. Due to the shareholder's right to demand redemption, the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock is presented on the balance sheet above the Shareholders' Equity section.

Alanco has paid no Common Stock cash dividends and has no current plans to do so.

ITEM 6. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following management discussion and analysis of financial condition contains statements that may be considered "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements include statements concerning plans, objectives, goals, strategies, future events or performance, and underlying assumptions and other statements. Such forward-looking statements are inherently uncertain, and the actual results may differ from management's expectations.

Critical Accounting Policies

"Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" discusses our consolidated financial statements that have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The preparation of these financial statements requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. On an on-going basis, we evaluate our estimates and judgments, including those related to revenue recognition, valuation allowances for inventory and receivables, warranty and impairment of long-lived and intangible assets. We base our estimates and judgments on historical experience and on various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. The result of these estimates and judgments form the basis for making conclusions about the carrying value of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions.

The SEC suggests that all registrants list their most "critical accounting policies" in Management's Discussion and Analysis. A critical account policy is one which is both important to the portrayal of the Company's financial condition and results and requires management's most difficult, subjective or complex judgments, often as a result of the need to make estimates about the effect of matters that are inherently uncertain. Management believes the following critical accounting policies affect its more significant judgments and estimates in the preparation of its consolidated financial statements.

These policies include, but are not limited to, the carrying value of goodwill and other intangible assets, estimates related to the valuation of inventory and receivables, the actual net realizable value of net assets held for sale and the ultimate resolution of the current litigation with TSIN and Arraid Properties L.L.C. that is more fully discussed in Item 3, Legal Proceedings presented on page 6.

Results of Operations

In accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, the Company has limited its reported consolidated revenues for fiscal years ended

June 30, 2003 and 2002 to its Computer Data Storage segment and its RFID Technology segment, the only segments reported as continuing operations.

Consolidated revenues for fiscal year 2003 were $7,417,900, an increase of 38.2% when compared to $5,368,200 for fiscal year 2002. The increase resulted from the RFID Technology segment (acquired effective June 1, 2002), which reported revenues of $3,642,100 compared to $70,300, representing one month's sales for the previous year. The Data Storage segment revenue decreased to $3,775,800, a 28.7% decrease from $5,297,900 reported for the previous year. The decrease in Data Storage segment revenue compared to the previous year resulted from the Company's decision to close the SanOne operations during fiscal year 2002 and the continued weak demand for data storage products as companies reduced and delayed technology expenditures in reaction to economic conditions.

Gross Profit for fiscal year 2003 was $2.6 million, or 35.2% of sales, a 13% increase compared to $2.3 million, or 42.3% of sales, for the prior year. The Data Storage segment reported a decrease in gross profit dollars of $808,900, or 35.9%, resulting from reduced product demand; and a decrease in gross margin from 42.5% to 38.3%, due to changes in product mix to lower margin products. The reduction of gross profit dollars in the Data Storage segment was offset by significant increases in current fiscal year RFID Technology segment gross profits and gross margins. Margins in the RFID Technology segment increased to 31.9% from 24.8% reported for fiscal year ended June 30, 2002. The RFID Technology segment should continue to show significant improvements in gross margins as projected volume efficiencies are realized and new technology improvements are adopted.

Selling, general and administrative expenses for the year ended June 30, 2003 increased $579,700, or 12.8%, to $5.1 million, compared to $4.5 million, excluding the asset impairment charges recorded in fiscal 2002. The increase resulted from additional costs related to the RFID Technology segment, reflecting a twelve-month period in the current fiscal year and only a one-month reporting period in the prior year. Selling, general and administrative expense for the Data Storage segment decreased by $1,629,600, or 45%, when compared to the prior year. The decrease in Data Storage segment costs resulted from the closure and substantial liquidation of the SanOne operations (a subsidiary operating in the Storage Area Network (SAN) market) during the fiscal year 2002 and continued cost containment policies adopted by the Company.

The loss from continuing operations for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2003 was $2,611,000, or ($.14) per share, compared to a loss of $5,718,300, or ($.57) per share, for the prior fiscal year. The loss from operations for the prior fiscal year included $1.389 million in non-cash asset impairment charges to write down the value of goodwill and other intangible assets in the Data Storage segment and a $2.1 million impairment of investment charge related to the write down of an investment discussed below. The write-downs related to management's reduced estimation of the value of goodwill and other intangible assets and are in compliance with the Company's policy of annually reviewing intangible asset values to determine appropriateness of valuation and presentation. Excluding the asset impairment charges, the fiscal year 2002 loss from continuing operations would be $2,229,300. Comparing the current year loss from continuing operations of $2,611,000 with the fiscal year 2002 loss before impairment charges of $2,229,300, the current loss reflects an increase of $381,700 or 17.1%.

The fiscal year 2002 Corporate segment loss from continuing operations includes a $2.1 million asset impairment charge, recorded in the third fiscal quarter, related to a write-down of the Company's Gold and Minerals, Inc. ("G&M") investment that was exchanged for 8.9% of the outstanding shares of TSIN, a transaction that is more fully discussed in the notes to the financial statements.

Corporate expenses for the current fiscal year amounted to $943,800, an increase of $176,000, or 22.9%, when compared to the Corporate segment expenses for fiscal year 2002 before the impairment of assets charges. The increase in corporate expenses resulted from additional corporate investor relations expenditures related to the TSI acquisition and general cost increases.

Fiscal year 2003 interest expense was $130,600 compared to interest expense of $82,600 for the previous year. Interest income of $500 for fiscal year ended June 30, 2003 is a decrease of $94,900, or 99.5% compared to fiscal year 2002. The increase in interest expense relates to the Company's additional borrowings under its line of credit agreements. The decrease in interest income is due to interest bearing note receivables that had been repaid during fiscal year 2002.

ALANCO TECHNOLOGIES, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

The Consolidated Statement of Operations for fiscal year 2003 reflects income from discontinued operations of $9,200, or nil per share, compared to loss from discontinued operations in the prior year of $292,900, or ($.03) per share. Loss from discontinued operations for fiscal year 2002 includes an asset impairment charge related to restaurant equipment assets held for sale of $300,000, management's estimate of the charge necessary to reduce the restaurant equipment assets to net realizable value at year-end, and operating income of $7,100.

Preferred Stock dividends for the year ended June 30, 2003 amounted to $52,300, compared to Preferred Stock dividends of $6,300 for the prior year, an increase of $46,000. The fiscal years 2003 and 2002 dividends relate to Series B Preferred Stock that was approved by shareholders at a May 14, 2002 Special Shareholders' Meeting and issued prior to fiscal 2002 year-end. See Footnote 12 - Shareholders' Equity for additional discussion of Preferred Stock transactions.

Consolidated net loss attributable to Common stockholders for fiscal year ended June 30, 2003 was $2,654,100, or ($.14) per share, a reduction in the per share net loss of 76.7% when compared to a net loss of $6,017,500, or ($.60) per share, for the prior year.

Net cash used in operating activities for the current fiscal year end was $2,020,800 compared with net cash used in operating activities for the prior fiscal year of $1,215,500. The increase in cash used in operations resulted from the Company's increases in accounts receivable, inventories and prepaids for the current year, while those same items decreased in fiscal year 2002, increasing cash flow for the prior year. See "Liquidity and Capital Resources" below for management's discussion of major items affecting the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flow.

Any new Statements of the Financial Accounting Standards affecting the Company are disclosed in the "Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements."

Liquidity and Capital Resources

At June 30, 2003 the Company's current assets exceeded current liabilities by $562,500, resulting in a current ratio of 1.20 to 1. At June 30, 2002, the Company's current assets exceeded current liabilities by $365,500, reflecting a current ratio of 1.18 to 1. The increase in current ratio was due primarily to increases in receivables at June 30, 2003 related to the sale of the Company's Series A Convertible Preferred Stock that occurred during the fourth quarter, which were collected subsequent to fiscal year end.

Accounts receivable of $808,500 at June 30, 2003, reflects an increase of $27,000 from the $781,500 reported as consolidated accounts receivables at the end of fiscal year 2002. $324,100, or 40.1% of the current fiscal year end balance, was from the RFID Technology segment, an operation acquired effective June 1, 2002. Data Storage segment accounts receivable balances at June 30, 2003 amounted to $466,700, a decrease of $133,400, or 22.2%, compared to the previous year. The Data Storage segment accounts receivable balance at June 30, 2003 represented thirty-two day's sales in receivables compared to forty-one days at fiscal year end 2002. RFID Technology segment accounts receivable balance at June 30, 2003 represented 23.1 day's sales in receivables.

Consolidated inventories at June 30, 2003 amounted to $1,278,700 compared to $1,256,400 at the end of the prior fiscal year. Included in the current fiscal year end balance is $409,500 of inventory for the RFID Technology segment and $869,200 for the Data Storage segment. The RFID Technology segment balance represents a 59% increase when compared to the $257,200 inventory balance reported at June 30, 2002. The RFID Technology segment increased inventory to more appropriate levels to fill contracts anticipated for the fiscal year 2004. Inventories for the Data Storage segment decreased 13.0% compared to $999,200 of inventory recorded at the prior fiscal year end. The June 30, 2003 Data Storage segment inventory balance reflects an inventory turnover of 2.7 compared to 3.0 for the inventory levels at June 30, 2002. The decrease in Data Storage segment inventory balances relative to revenues reflects an improvement in inventory management and an improving economy. The inventory balance for the RFID Technology segment represents an inventory turnover of 6.1.

ALANCO TECHNOLOGIES, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

The Company's cash position at June 30, 2003 was $97,700, compared to $328,400 at the end of the prior fiscal year. The decrease in the Company's cash position at June 30, 2003 resulted from cash operating losses offset by additional borrowing and financing activities.

Cash used in investing activities during the current year was $69,100, compared to $441,300 for the previous year. The decrease was due to cash funding of TSIN prior to the acquisition. Cash used to purchase property, plant and equipment in fiscal year 2003 was $54,000, compared to $174,100 in the prior year. The $174,100 does not include property, plant and equipment acquired via the TSI acquisition that was effective June 1, 2002 in an all-stock transaction. Cash used in investing activities during fiscal year 2002 includes $559,100 of interim funding for the TSIN operation prior to the acquisition effective closing date of June 1, 2002. See Footnote 14 - Acquisition for additional discussion of the TSI acquisition.

Net cash provided by financing activities during fiscal year ended June 30, 2003 amounted to $1,859,200, compared to $1,904,200 for the prior year. Cash provided by financing activities included $1,597,500 and $1,504,000 in proceeds from the sale of common and preferred stock for fiscal years ended June 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. Fiscal year 2002 also included $563,500 in the collection of subscription receivables. Advances on borrowings amounted to $3,096,200 compared to $2,620,500 for the previous year. Repayments of borrowing and capital leases during the year amounted to $2,814,400, compared to $2,745,500 during the prior fiscal year.

The Company had a $1,374,000 line of credit balance at June 30, 2003 under a $1,800,000 line of credit agreement with a private trust that was amended in April 2003. The secured line of credit was increased to $1.8 million and is based upon accounts receivable and inventory values and secured by all assets of the company. The line of credit has an interest rate of prime plus 4% for borrowings up to $1.3 million and prime plus 6% for borrowing over $1.3 million. Under the line of credit agreement, the Company must maintain a balance due under the line of at least $500,000 through December 31, 2004. Due to the $500,000 balance requirement and the December 2004 expiration date, the $500,000 minimum balance is presented at June 30, 2003 as long-term notes payable - other. At June 30, 2003, $426,000 was available under the line of credit agreement.

During fiscal year ended June 30, 2002, the Company had a $1.3 million formula-based revolving line of credit agreement with a private trust. The secured line of credit was based upon accounts receivable and inventory values and had interest calculated at prime plus 4%. At June 30, 2002, the Company had $300,000 available under the line of credit, which was scheduled to expire on December 31, 2003.

The Company believes that additional cash resources will be required for working capital to achieve planned operating results for fiscal year 2003 and anticipates raising capital through additional borrowing or sale of stock. The additional capital will supplement the projected cash flow from operations and the line of credit agreement in place at June 30, 2003. If the Company were unable to raise the required additional capital, it may materially affect the ability of the company to achieve its financial plans.

Product and Environmental Contingencies

The Company is not aware of any material liabilities, either product or environmental related. Also refer to the environmental disclosure section of the mining properties segment under Item 2.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Board of Directors and Shareholders
Alanco Technologies, Inc. and Subsidiaries

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Alanco Technologies, Inc. and Subsidiaries as of June 30, 2003 and 2002, and the related consolidated statements of operations, changes in shareholders' equity and preferred stock, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Alanco Technologies, Inc. and Subsidiaries as of June 30, 2003 and 2002, and the results of its operations, changes in shareholders' equity and preferred stock, and its cash flows for the years then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 2 to the consolidated financial statements, the Company has incurred significant losses from operations, anticipates additional losses in the next year and has insufficient working capital as of June 30, 2003 to fund the anticipated losses. These conditions raise substantial doubt as to the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. These consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

ALANCO TECHNOLOGIES, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Operations - Alanco Technologies, Inc. was incorporated in Arizona in 1969.

During fiscal year 2000, the Company implemented a strategic plan to position itself as a provider of information technology. The plan was initiated by acquiring Arraid, Inc. ("Arraid"), a computer data storage company, initiating the roll-out of a multi-year Storage Area Network ("SAN") expansion plan, and acquiring a second computer data storage company, Excel/Meridian Data, Inc. ("Excel"), effective June 1, 2000.

Concurrent with the implementation of the strategic plan, the Company established a formal plan to sell the assets of all previously reported business segments. At June 30, 2002, the Company had sold the mining and pollution control products, and had reclassified the restaurant equipment assets as "net assets held for sale."

During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2002 the Company continued its strategic plan to position itself as a provider of information technology. Its wholly-owned subsidiary, Technology Systems International, Inc., an Arizona Corporation ("TSIA"), acquired certain RFID (Radio Frequency Identification) tracking technology through the acquisition of the assets, liabilities and operations of Technology Systems International, Inc., a Nevada corporation ("TSIN"). Two additional wholly owned subsidiaries; Arraid, a manufacturer of proprietary storage products to upgrade older "legacy" computer systems; and Excel, a manufacturer of Network Attached Storage ("NAS") systems for mid-range organizations, continued the Company's involvement in the data storage market. During the year, the Company substantially liquidated, due to continued operating losses, SanOne, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary that had been created to enter the SAN market. Therefore, fiscal year 2003 has continuing operations in both the RFID Technology segment and in the Computer Data Storage segment. Fiscal year 2003 includes twelve months of operations for both the Computer Storage segment and the RFID Technology segment, while fiscal year 2002 includes twelve months of Computer Data Storage segment operations and one month of RFID Technology segment operations.

Principles of Consolidation - The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Alanco Technologies, Inc. and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, TSIA, Arraid, Excel, Fry Guy, Inc., SanOne, Inc., and NetZerver, Inc., (collectively, the "Company") for the years ended June 30, 2003 and 2002. All subsidiaries are Arizona corporations, except Fry Guy, Inc., which is a Nevada corporation. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Cash Equivalents - The Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Accounts Receivable Trade - The Company provides for potentially uncollectible accounts receivable by use of the allowance method. An allowance is provided based upon a review of the individual accounts outstanding and the Company's prior history of uncollectible accounts. Provision for uncollectible accounts receivable amounted to approximately $60,100 and $127,600 at June 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Subscriptions Receivable - Subscriptions receivable at June 30, 2003 represent receivables arising from the sale of Series A Convertible Preferred Stock and warrants during the fourth quarter of the current fiscal year. All monies due were received prior to the issuance of the financial statements for fiscal year 2003.

Inventories - Inventories consist of purchased materials and parts, work-in-process, and finished goods. Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market. Cost is calculated using the average-cost method for the Data Storage segment and first-in, first-out ("FIFO") for the RFID Technology segment.

Property, Plant and Equipment - Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is computed over the estimated useful lives of the assets using the straight-line method, generally over a 3 to 10-year period. Leasehold improvements are amortized on the straight-line method over the lesser of the lease term or the useful life. Expenditures for ordinary maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. Betterments or renewals are capitalized as incurred. Upon retirement or disposal of assets, the cost and accumulated depreciation are eliminated from the account and any gain or loss is reflected in the statement of operations.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments - The estimated fair values for financial instruments are determined at discrete points in time based on relevant market information. These estimates involve uncertainties and cannot be determined with precision. The carrying amounts of accounts receivable, notes receivable, accounts payable, accrued liabilities, and notes payable approximate fair value. (See below for a fair value discussion of intangible assets and investments.)

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets - In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued SFAS No.141, "Business Combinations," and SFAS No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets". SFAS No. 141 requires the use of the purchase method of accounting for all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001. It also provides guidance on purchase accounting related to the recognition of intangible assets. SFAS No. 142 requires that goodwill and identifiable acquired intangible assets with indefinite useful lives shall no longer be amortized, but tested for impairment annually and whenever events or circumstances occur indicating that goodwill might be impaired. SFAS No. 142 also requires the amortization of identifiable assets with finite useful lives. Identifiable acquired intangible assets, which are subject to amortization, are to be tested for impairment in accordance with SFAS No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets."

The Company elected to adopt the provisions of SFAS No. 142 as of July 1, 2001, and identified its reporting units (components) to be its TSIA unit, which is currently the only unit under the RFID Technology segment; and two separate units (Arraid and Excel), in its Data Storage segment. The Company determined the carrying value of each reporting unit by assigning assets and liabilities, including the existing goodwill and intangible assets, to those reporting units as of July 1, 2001. Upon adoption of SFAS No. 142, amortization of goodwill recorded for business combinations consummated prior to June 30, 2001 ceased, and intangible assets acquired prior to June 30, 2001 that did not meet the criteria for recognition apart from goodwill under SFAS No. 141 were reclassified to goodwill. In connection with the adoption of SFAS No. 142, the Company was required to perform a transitional goodwill impairment assessment. The annual goodwill impairment assessment involves estimating the fair value of the reporting unit and comparing it with the carrying amount. If the carrying amount of the reporting unit exceeds its fair value, additional steps are followed to recognize a potential impairment loss. Calculating the fair value of the reporting units requires significant estimates and assumptions by management. The Company estimates the fair value of its reporting units by applying third-party market value indicators to the reporting unit's projected earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization. The Company completed its impairment tests with no adjustment to the carrying value of its goodwill as of June 30, 2003 and a $1,389,000 adjustment in the Data Storage Segment for the year-ended June 30, 2002.

Intangible assets consist of goodwill, the excess of purchase price over fair value of net assets acquired in connection with the acquisitions of its wholly owned subsidiaries, and other intangible assets, including cost of licenses, patents, developed software, etc. Prior to fiscal year 2002, goodwill was being amortized over 15 years. Commencing in the prior fiscal year 2002, the Company adopted SFAS 142 and ceased amortizing goodwill balances over a specific period pursuant to SFAS 142. However, per Company policy, goodwill balances are reviewed at least annually to determine appropriateness of valuation and presentation based upon anticipated cash flows. See Impairment of Intangibles and Other Long-lived assets below for additional discussion of valuation for Intangible Assets. See acquisitions Footnote 14 for information related to intangible assets.

The following is a summary of Goodwill, net:

The aggregate other intangible asset amortization expense for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2003 and 2002 was $220,000 and $18,300, respectively.

The following table summarizes the estimated amortization charge related to the other intangible assets as of June 30, 2003:

June 30th
2004	$220,000
2005	218,800
2006	203,400
2007	193,400
2008	76,100

Investments - In fiscal year 2000, the Company exchanged its principal mining property known as the "COD mine" for convertible preferred stock in Gold and Minerals, Inc. ("G&M"), an Arizona-based mining company with mining assets in the Southwest. During fiscal year 2002 the investment was written down by $2.1 million and exchanged for approximately 8.9% of the outstanding shares of TSIN in a transaction related to the acquisition of the operations of TSIN in May 2002. See Footnote 14 for further discussions of the transaction.

Net Assets Held For Sale - During fiscal 2000, the Company implemented a plan to divest all non-data storage assets and reinvest the proceeds into the Information Technology market. At June 30, 2003 and 2002, the "net assets held for sale" consist of the remaining restaurant equipment assets, which value had been reduced during the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2002 by an asset impairment charge of $300,000. Discussions have been held with potential buyers for all remaining units; however, a firm acceptable offer has not yet been received. The Company is continuing to sell the equipment in small quantities and believes the carrying value is supportable under the small unit sales. "Net assets held for sale" at June 30, 2003 and 2002 are valued at the lower of cost or market.

Discontinued Operations - Discontinued operations consist of the remaining mining, restaurant equipment and pollution control operations. Based upon a formal plan of disposal adopted by management in fiscal year 2000, management concluded that income or loss from operations and any gain from the disposal of the segment's assets should be reported separately from the Company's results of continuing operations. Therefore, the results of operations for the segments identified above are presented as "Discontinued Operations" for the years ended June 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. During the current fiscal year, the Company closed its last mining property and at year-end had no known mining

Income Taxes - The Company accounts for income taxes under the asset and liability method, which requires recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been included in the financial statements or tax returns. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the difference between the financial statement basis and tax basis of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which the differences are expected to reverse.

Use of Estimates - The preparation of the Company's financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the Company's management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in these financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The Company makes significant assumptions concerning the realizability of its goodwill and other intangible assets, warranty reserves, percentage of completion method of accounting, deferred tax assets, investments and assets held for sale. Due to the uncertainties inherent in the estimation process and the significance of these items, it is at least reasonably possible that the estimates in connection with these items could be further materially revised within the next year.

Impairment of Other Long-Lived Assets - The Company performs an assessment for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of a long-lived asset may not be recoverable. If the net carrying value of the asset exceeds estimated future net cash flows, then impairment is recognized to reduce the carrying value to the estimated fair value. No impairment to Other Long-Lived Assets was recorded during fiscal year ended June 30, 2003. During fiscal year ended June 30, 2002, the Company recorded a $300,000 asset impairment charge related to the restaurant equipment assets, classified as "assets held for sale" and a $2.1 million impairment charge related to an investment in G&M, an Arizona-based mining company. See Investments above and Footnote 14 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further discussion of the transaction.

Revenue Recognition - The Company recognizes revenue from computer data storage sales, net of anticipated returns, at the time products are shipped to customers, or at the time service is provided. Revenues from material long-term contracts (in excess of $250,000 and over a 90-day period) in both the Computer Data Storage segment and the RFID Technology segment are recognized on the percentage-of-completion method for individual contracts, commencing when significant costs are incurred and adequate estimates are verified for substantial portions of the contract to where experience is sufficient to estimate final results with reasonable accuracy. Revenues are recognized in the ratio that costs incurred bear to total estimated costs. Changes in job performance, estimated profitability and final contract settlements would result in revisions to costs and income, and are recognized in the period in which the revisions are determined.

Contract costs include all direct materials, subcontracts, labor costs and those direct and indirect costs related to contract performance. General and administrative costs are charged to expense as incurred. At the time a loss on a contract becomes known, the entire amount of the estimated ultimate loss is accrued.

Foreign Currency Translation - The Company sold its only foreign entity, which had been classified as "net assets held for sale" at June 30, 2000, during the fiscal year 2001. The Company had no foreign currency transactions during fiscal years 2003 and 2002.

Income (Loss) Per Share - The income (loss) per share ("EPS") is presented in accordance with the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 128, Earnings Per Share. Basic EPS is calculated by dividing the income or loss available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period. Diluted EPS reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised or converted into common stock. Basic and diluted EPS were the same for fiscal 2003 and 2002, as the Company had losses from operations and therefore the effect of all potential common stock equivalents is antidilutive (reduces loss per share). Stock options representing 5,578,800 shares of Class A Common Stock were outstanding at year-end with exercise prices ranging between $0.43 and $2.75. The weighted average exercise price for all outstanding options was $0.96. Stock warrants representing 5,748,400 Class A Common Shares were outstanding at year-end with exercise prices ranging between $0.40 and $1.75. The weighted average exercise price was $0.77.

Stock-Based Compensation - At June 30, 2003, the Company had stock-based compensation plans accounted for under the recognition and measurement principles of Accounting Principles Board Opinion ("APBO") No. 25 "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees," and related interpretations, as more fully described in Note 12. Pro forma information regarding the impact of stock-based compensation on net income and earnings per share is required by SFAS No. 123 "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation," and SFAS No. 148, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation-Transition and Disclosure." Such pro forma information, determined as if the Company had accounted for its employee stock options under the fair value recognition provisions of SFAS No. 123, is illustrated in the following table:

Net loss attributable to common shareholders as reported	$ (2,654,100)	$ (6,017,500)
Deduct: Total stock-based compensation expense determined under fair value-based method for all awards, net of related tax effects	(90,100)	(683,700)
Pro Forma Net Loss	$ (2,744,200)	$ (6,701,200)
Loss per Share:
Basic and Diluted, as Reported	$ (0.14)	$ (0.60)
Pro Forma Basic and Diluted	$ (0.15)	$ (0.67)

The fair value for these options was estimated as of the date of grant using a Black-Scholes option-pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions for all options granted.

	Year Ended June 30,
	2003	2002
Volatility	30%	30%
Risk free interest	3%	3%
Expected dividends	none	none
Expected term (in years)	10	10

Concentrations of Credit Risks and Significant Customers - The Company sells products and extends credit based on an evaluation of the customer's financial condition, generally without requiring collateral. Exposure to losses on receivables is principally dependent on each customer's financial condition. The Company monitors its exposure for credit losses and maintains allowances for anticipated losses.

The RFID Technology segment utilizes various domestic subcontractors for materials and parts used to manufacture its products. Due to the advantage of volume manufacturing, one domestic supplier represented approximately 49% and a second domestic supplier represented approximately 21% of the segment's purchases of material and parts for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2003. Additionally, one subcontractor, who accounted for approximately $990,000 in installation billings during the twelve months ended June 30, 2003, completed all subcontracted installations.

The Company anticipates continued concentration of vendor purchases; however, additional suppliers are readily available at competitive pricing levels. The Company does not foresee any future significant shortages or substantial price increases that cannot be recovered from its customers.

During the current and prior fiscal years, no customer accounted for more than 10% of the Company's Data Storage segment revenues. The largest customer represented 5.9% of revenues in fiscal year 2003 and 5.5% of revenues in fiscal year 2002. The largest accounts receivable balance at June 30, 2003 and 2002 represented 12.4% and 12.3% of consolidated accounts receivable, respectively.

Two Midwestern state governments accounted for substantially all of the RFID Technology segment's revenues for the current fiscal year. One customer accounted for 80.2% and the second accounted for 19.5% of reported revenues. At June 30, 2003, the RFID Technology segment's accounts receivable represented 36% of the consolidated receivables. 88.6% of the RFID Technology segment receivables were due from one customer.

Segment Information - SFAS No. 131, "Disclosure About Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information," defines operating segments as components of a company about which separate financial information is available that is evaluated regularly by the chief operating decision maker in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance. The Company has identified RFID Technology and Data Storage as the continuing operating segments of the Company. All assets related to previously disclosed segments have either been sold or have been classified as "net assets held for sale" at June 30, 2003 and 2002. See Note 16 for further information related to the Company's operating segments.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements - Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 143, Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations, requires recognition of the fair value of liabilities associated with the retirement of long-lived assets when a legal obligation to incur such costs arises as a result of the acquisition, construction, development and/or the normal operation of a long-lived asset. Upon recognition of the liability, a corresponding asset is recorded at present value and accreted over the life of the asset and depreciated over the remaining life of the long-lived asset. SFAS 143 defines a legal obligation as one that a party is required to settle as a result of an existing or enacted law, statute, ordinance, or written or oral contract or by legal construction of a contract under the doctrine of promissory estoppel. SFAS 143 is effective for fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2002. We have adopted this statement effective July 1, 2002 and we do not expect it to have a material effect on the Company's financial position, results of operation or cash flows.

In October 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets. SFAS 144 requires that long-lived assets be measured at the lower of carrying amount or fair value less cost to sell, whether reported in continuing operations or in discontinued operations. Therefore, discontinued operations will no longer be measured at net realizable value or include amounts for operating losses that have not yet occurred. SFAS 144 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001 and, generally, are to be applied prospectively. We have adopted this statement effective July 1, 2002, and it did not materially affect our consolidated financial position or results of operations.

In April 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 145, Rescission of No. 4, (Reporting Gains and Losses from Extinguishment of Debt), SFAS No. 44 (Accounting for Intangible Assets of Motor Carriers), SFAS No. 64, (Extinguishments of Debt Made to Satisfy Sinking-Fund Requirements), Amendment of FASB Statement No. 13 (Accounting for Leases) and Technical Corrections. This statement eliminates the current requirement that gains and losses on debt extinguishment must be classified as extraordinary items in the income statement. Instead, such gains and losses will be classified as extraordinary items only if they are deemed to be unusual and infrequent, in accordance with the current GAAP criteria for extraordinary classification. In addition, SFAS 145 eliminates an inconsistency in lease accounting by requiring that modification of capital leases that result in reclassification as operating leases be accounted for consistent with sale-leaseback accounting rules. The statement also contains other nonsubstantive corrections to authoritative accounting literature. The changes related to debt extinguishment became effective for fiscal years beginning after May 15, 2002, and the changes related to lease accounting became effective for transactions occurring after May 15, 2002. We have adopted this statement effective July 1, 2002, and it did not materially affect our consolidated financial

In June 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 146, (SFAS 146) Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities, which addresses accounting for restructuring and similar costs. SFAS 146 supersedes previous accounting guidance, principally, Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue No. 94-3. SFAS 146 requires that the liability for costs associated with an exit or disposal activity be recognized when the liability is incurred. Under EITF No. 94-3, a liability for an exit cost was recognized at the date of a company's commitment to an exit plan. SFAS 146 also establishes that the liability should initially be measured and recorded at fair value. Accordingly, SFAS 146 may affect the timing of recognizing future restructuring costs as well as the amount recognized. The provisions of this Statement are effective for exit or disposal activities that are initiated after December 31, 2002. We have adopted this statement effective January 1, 2003, and it did not materially affect our consolidated financial position or results of operations.

In December 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation -- Transition and Disclosure , which amends SFAS No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation" ("FAS 123"). SFAS 148 provides alternative methods of transition for a voluntary change to the fair value based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation. In addition, SFAS 148 amends the disclosure requirement of SFAS 123 to require more prominent and more frequent disclosures in financial statements of the effects of stock-based compensation. The transition guidance and annual disclosure provisions of SFAS 148 are effective for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2002. The interim disclosure provisions are effective for financial reports containing condensed financial statements for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2002. The Company has adopted SFAS 148 and has accordingly modified its disclosures related to stock-based compensation.

Pending Accounting Pronouncements - In April 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 149, Amendment of Statement 133 on Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities. This Statement amends and clarifies the accounting for derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts and for hedging activities under SFAS No. 133. In particular, SFAS No. 149 (1) clarifies under what circumstances a contract with an initial net investment meets the characteristic of a derivative as discussed in SFAS No. 133, (2) clarifies when a derivative contains a financing component, (3) amends the definition of an underlying derivative to conform it to the language used in FASB Interpretation No. 45, Guarantor Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others, and (4) amends certain other existing pronouncements. SFAS No. 149 is generally effective for contracts entered into or modified after June 30, 2003. The Company does not believe the adoption of SFAS No. 149 will have a material impact on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

In May 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 150, Accounting for Certain Financial Instruments with Characteristics of both Liabilities and Equity. This Statement establishes standards for classifying and measuring as liabilities certain financial instruments that embody obligations of the issuer and have characteristics of both liabilities and equity. SFAS No. 150 is effective at the beginning of the first interim period beginning after June 15, 2003; including all financial instruments created or modified after May 31, 2003. SFAS No. 150 currently has no impact on the Company.

In November 2002, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 45, Guarantor's Accounting for Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others, an interpretation of FASB Statements No. 5, 57, and 107 and rescission of FASB Interpretation No. 34, Disclosure of Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others ("FIN 45"). FIN 45 clarifies the requirements for a guarantor's accounting for and disclosure of certain guarantees issued and outstanding. It also requires a guarantor to recognize, at the inception of a guarantee, a liability for the fair value of the obligation undertaken in issuing the guarantee. This Interpretation also incorporates without reconsideration the guidance in FASB Interpretation No. 34, which is being superseded. The Company does not believe the adoption of this standard will have a material impact on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flow.

In January 2003, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, an interpretation of Accounting Research Bulletins ("ARB") No. 51, Consolidated Financial Statements ("FIN 46"). FIN 46 applies immediately to variable interest entities created after January 31, 2003, and in the first interim period beginning after June 15, 2003 for variable interest entities created prior to January 31, 2003. The interpretation explains how to identify variable interest entities and how an enterprise assesses its interests in a variable interest entity to decide whether to consolidate that entity. The interpretation requires existing unconsolidated variable interest entities to be consolidated by their primary beneficiaries if the entities do not effectively disperse risks among parties involved. Variable interest entities that effectively disperse risks will not be consolidated unless a single party holds an interest or combination of interests that effectively recombines risks that were previously dispersed. The Company does not believe the adoption of this standard will have a material impact on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flow.

Reclassification - Certain reclassifications have been made to conform fiscal 2002 information to the presentation in fiscal 2003. The reclassifications had no effect on net income.

Advertising Costs - Advertising costs are expensed as incurred and are included in selling, general and administrative expenses. Advertising expense totaled $141,200 and $288,500 for the years ended June 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

2. LIQUIDITY AND GOING CONCERN

The Company incurred significant losses during the current fiscal year and has experienced significant losses in prior years. Although management cannot assure that future operations will be profitable or that additional debt and/or equity capital will be raised, it believes that its capital resources will be adequate to maintain and realize its business strategy. However, if additional working capital is required and not obtained through long-term debt, equity capital or operations, it could adversely affect future operations. Accordingly, the accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern. The Company has incurred losses from operations over the past several years and anticipates additional losses during the first part of fiscal 2004. Management has historically been successful in obtaining financing and has implemented a number of cost-cutting initiatives to reduce working capital needs. The Company requires and continues to pursue additional capital for growth and strategic plan implementation.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Effective March 31, 2003, the Company sold certain Data Storage segment assets, primarily electronic parts inventory, to a private company that is controlled by John Dahl and Frank Meijers, former officers of Arraid (See also Note 10, Related Party Transactions and Note 11, Commitments and Contingencies), for cash, the assumption of a small warranty obligation and a $100,000 promissory note, presented as Notes - Sale of Inventory above. The non-recourse note bears interest at 3%, is secured by negotiable securities with a current market value in excess of the note balance at June 30, 2003 and matures on March 31, 2006. The Company has the right to liquidate the pledged negotiable securities; however, any amount realized over the note balance, including accrued interest, will be shared with purchaser on a 90/10 basis with the Company receiving the 90% of the excess amount.

At June 30, 2003 and 2002, Notes -"Pollution Control Assets, net consist of notes receivable in the amount of $1.15 million related to the fiscal year 2001 sale of the remaining assets in the Pollution Control Products segment, net of a $967,700 deferred gain on the sale, resulting in a net value for the note of $182,300. The debtor has paid interest on the notes totaling $53,200 during fiscal year 2002, but has made no principal or interest payments during fiscal year 2003 and is currently in default on the notes. Due to the current default status, the note balance is presented net of the unrecognized gain and the total amount due is classified as long term.

The notes were issued by a privately owned New Jersey corporation and are payable through 2004, bear interest from 5% to 7% and are secured by: (i) the patents sold; and (ii) the personal guarantee of the principal stockholder of the New Jersey company. Subsequent to year end, the Company received a default judgment for the amount of the note plus interest. The Company will continue collection efforts using the judgment obtained. The Company believes the present value of the dollars to be received from the collection of these notes, and/or the liquidation of the assets securing the notes, is sufficient to recover the net carrying value of the notes. The gain recognized in prior years was calculated based upon the payments received relative to the total estimated receipt less the pro rata costs of the assets sold.

Notes receivable - other at June 30, 2003 and 2002, consist of 2 notes from the former owners of Arraid that bear interest at a rate of 8% and a note from a former owner of Excel/Meridian Data, Inc. The notes are due upon demand; however, there is no assurance the Company will demand payment during the current fiscal year; therefore, the notes are classified as long-term.

Legal Proceedings -The Company is a party to litigation that relates to the acquisition, in May of 2002, of substantially all the assets of Technology Systems International, Inc., a Nevada Corporation, and to litigation arising from an expired property lease between the Company's subsidiary, Arraid, Inc., and Arraid Property L.L.C., a Limited Liability Company. The actions are more fully described below:

On January 30, 2003, Richard C. Jones, a shareholder of Technology Systems International, Inc., a Nevada corporation ("TSIN"), filed a derivative suit naming as defendants the Company and its wholly owned subsidiary, Technology Systems International, Inc. an Arizona corporation ("TSIA"), and all of the directors of TSIN. The venue for this action is the Arizona Superior Court in and for Maricopa County, Arizona, as case number CV2003-001937. The complaint sets forth various allegations and seeks equitable remedies and damages arising out of the Company's acquisition of substantially all of the assets of TSIN. This derivative suit was terminated and the action converted into a direct action by TSIN by stipulation and court order in July 2003. The Company's management, in consultation with legal counsel, believes the plaintiff's claims are without merit and the Company will aggressively defend the action.

On July 18, 2003, Arraid Property L.L.C., an Arizona Limited Liability Company ("Arraid LLC"), filed a complaint in Superior Court, Arizona

(case number CV 2003-13999) against the Company and its wholly owned subsidiary, Arraid, Inc., an Arizona corporation ("Arraid"), alleging breach of lease and unjust enrichment and seeking monetary damages. The suit relates to an expired lease agreement for property previously leased by Arraid. The Company has filed a counterclaim against Arraid LLC, and a third party complaint against John Dahl, Frank Meijers and Keith Blaich (all owners of Arraid LLC and previous employees of the Company) seeking monetary damages and alleging, among other things, excess billing and unjust enrichment. The Company's management, in consultation with legal counsel, believes the plaintiff's claims are without merit and the Company will aggressively defend the action and pursue the counterclaims and third party claims specified.

No amounts have been accrued in the accompanying financial statements of the Company as of June 30, 2003 for any potential loss arising from the matters, or for any additional costs of defense.

The Company may also, from time to time, be involved in litigation arising from the normal course of the business. As of June 30, 2003, there was no such litigation pending.

to the investor an additional 150,000 shares of the Company's Class A Common Stock for the elimination of the right and option to have the Company repurchase the shares.

The Company had received notifications from NASDAQ indicating that due to the failure of the Company to maintain the minimum $1.00 per share requirement, its securities were subject to delisting from the NASDAQ Small Cap Market. The Company appealed that staff decision and was granted an extension until September 30, 2003 to gain compliance or face possible delisting. The Company's Board of Directors have received shareholder authorization to effect, if the Board believes necessary, up to a 1 for 10 reverse stock split at a future date through October 31, 2005. The exercise price of the options will be 60% of the NASDAQ closing bid price per share on the date of grant or such other price the Board of Directors may determine. 14. ACQUISITION

In December of 2001, the Company announced an agreement to acquire the operations of TSIN, a Scottsdale, AZ based developer of the TSI PRISM(TM) RFID (Radio Frequency Identification) tracking technology, a proprietary wireless system primarily utilized in correctional facilities security management and personnel monitoring. The transaction was effected by the issuance of Alanco Class A Common Shares at closing to purchase TSIN's assets and the Company's assumption of specified liabilities. The Company created a wholly owned subsidiary to record the assets purchased and the liabilities assumed. The all-stock transaction was approved at a Special May 14, 2002 Shareholders Meeting, which authorized the issuance of the shares required by the TSI amended acquisition agreement (the "Agreement"). Complete proxy information was filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on April 22, 2002 and sent to all shareholders pursuant to the Special Shareholders Meeting requirements.

The Agreement required the Company to issue 6 million Class A Common Shares to the seller at closing and issue up to an additional 17 million shares of Class B Common Shares upon TSI operations achieving certain financial targets. Five million of the Class B Common Shares would be earned upon the TSI operations achieving a gross profit for the twelve months ended December 31, 2002 of at least $3 million. Gross profit generated during the period in excess of the $3 million would earn additional Class B Common Shares at a rate of 4 shares for each $1 of gross profit over the $3 million threshold, up to a maximum of 12 million Class B Common Shares. A Final Payment Extension could be earned in the event the maximum number of additional Class B Common Shares (17 million) have not been earned by December 31, 2002 and both the following have occurred: (i) at least $4.5 million of Gross Profit was achieved during calendar year 2002 from the TSI operation, and (ii) a minimum of $15 million in gross sales of the business has been contracted for during calendar year 2002, then Gross Profit produced during the first quarter of calendar year 2003 in excess of $1,000,000 shall earn additional shares of Class B Common Shares at the same rate of 4 Class B Common Shares for each $1 of such additional excess gross profit; provided, however, that not more than the maximum of 12 million shares of Class B Common Stock shall be payable aggregately under the payout formulas.

In accordance with the provisions of SFAS 141, Business Combinations, the transaction was recorded using the purchase method of accounting, which requires the allocation of the purchase price to the fair value of the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed. To calculate the purchase price, only the 6 million Class A Common Shares that are guaranteed to be issued under the Agreement were valued. Since the shares were not registered when issued, the shares were valued at 90% of the 10-day average closing price of the Company's Class A Common Stock as traded on the NASDAQ exchange. The time frame for the payout formula has expired without TSI's achieving the minimum target specified or earning a Final Payment Extension. Therefore, no additional Class B Common Shares will be issued. See Note 11, Comitments and Contingencies for additional discussion of a lawsuit commenced by TSIN relative to this acquisition and appropriate comments by the Company.

The transaction closed with an effective date of June 1, 2002. The purchase price, considering only the 6 million Class A Common Shares issued and related costs of the acquisition, was valued at $3,914,200. In accordance with SFAS 141, the Company has not recorded any amortization expense against the goodwill created under this acquisition.

Patent license	3 years

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Amounts classified as "due to Alanco corporate" at the time of the acquisition include $559,100 for operating advances made to TSIN prior to the acquisition and $957,000 for pre-existing TSIN notes payable that were assumed by Alanco and satisfied through the issuance of 1,000,000 shares of Alanco Class A Common Stock simultaneous to the closing of the acquisition.

The Company also entered into an agreement, subject to the TSI acquisition approval at the May 14, 2002 Special Shareholders Meeting, with EMS, an approximate 15% owner and significant vendor of TSIN, to convert approximately $957,000 of TSIN debt into one million shares of the Company's Class A Common Stock, to convert $350,000 of TSIN short-term debt into long-term debt and to modify a supply agreement between the parties to mutually acceptable terms. The transaction was completed subsequent to the TSIN closing with Alanco issuing the one million shares and the vendor renegotiating the debt and the supply agreement.

In a separate agreement negotiated with an individual TSIN shareholder during the third quarter of fiscal year 2002, the Company agreed to exchange its investment in G&M Preferred Stock for 2,070,800 shares of TSIN stock, or approximately 8.9% of the outstanding shares of TSIN. The Company's investment in G&M Preferred Stock had been recorded on the Company's balance sheet as of December 31, 2001, the most recent quarter end prior to the negotiations, as "Investments at Cost" in the amount of $2,475,200. Since the TSI acquisition valuation was determined considering only the shares that were issued at closing, with no consideration for the additional Class B Shares that may be issued, the G&M investment was adjusted during the third quarter to reflect the approximate value of 8.9% of the Class A Common Shares to be issued to TSIN at closing. See "Investments" under Footnote 1 and Footnote 2 for additional discussion of the transaction.

The Company's matching contributions totaled $13,400 and $9,500 for the years ended June 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively.
