Notes to the Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

Note 1 - Nature of Operations and Continuance of Business

The unaudited interim consolidated financial statements included herein have been prepared by Soul and Vibe Interactive Inc. (“SVI”) and its wholly owned subsidiaries Soul and Vibe Entertainment, Inc. and Soul and Vibe Publishing, Inc., a Nevada corporation (“Soul,” and collectively with SVI, the “Company”) in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”). These interim consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in our Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2014, as filed with the SEC. We believe that all adjustments, consisting of normal recurring adjustments, necessary for a fair presentation of financial position and the results of operations for the interim periods presented have been reflected herein and that the disclosures made are adequate to make the information not misleading. The results of operations for interim periods are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the full year. Notes to the consolidated financial statements which would substantially duplicate the disclosure contained in the audited consolidated financial statements for the most recent fiscal year as reported in Form 10-K have been omitted.

Note 2 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Derivative Instruments

The Company accounts for derivative instruments in accordance with ASC Topic 815, Derivatives and Hedging, all derivative instruments are reflected as either assets or liabilities at fair value in the balance sheet. The Company uses estimates of fair value to value its derivative instruments. Fair value is defined as the price to sell an asset or transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between willing and able market participants. In general, the Company’s policy in estimating fair values is to first look at observable market prices for identical assets and liabilities in active markets, where available. When these are not available, other inputs are used to model fair value such as prices of similar instruments, yield curves, volatilities, prepayment speeds, default rates and credit spreads (including for the Company’s liabilities), relying first on observable data from active markets. Additional adjustments may be made for factors including liquidity, credit, bid/offer spreads, etc., depending on current market conditions. Transaction costs are not included in the determination of fair value. When possible, the Company seeks to validate the model’s output to market transactions. Depending on the availability of observable inputs and prices, different valuation models could produce materially different fair value estimates. The values presented may not represent future fair values and may not be realizable. The Company categorizes its fair value estimates in accordance with ASC 820 based on the hierarchical framework associated with the three levels of price transparency utilized in measuring financial instruments at fair value as discussed above.

Revenue Recognition

The Company primarily digitally distributes its products through (an) online merchants / portal service(s). The Company recognizes revenue at the "on demand" point of sale by the customer and recognizes a receivable. (For the purposes of digital distribution, customer is equivalent to end consumer.) The portal service(s) track product sales on a daily / near-daily basis.

For the Company's games and entertainment apps (such as e-books) every two weeks, monthly, or quarterly (depending upon the digital merchant / portal service) payment is remitted to the Company. Ownership of product is transferred to the customer with a no refund, no return policy, as set by the online portal service(s). For retail distributed products (pick-ups and select licensed-brand games), the Company recognizes revenue through traditional retail "sell-in" and "sell-through." Receivables are logged based on "sell-through" reports from retailers and distributors. Based on the distributor, product sales are tracked on a monthly basis. On average, between thirty (30) to forty-five (45) days following the end of a month, the distributor remits payment to the Company. Ownership of product is transferred to the customer (end user) with a no refund, no return policy, as set by individual retailers.

For the Company's music releases (soundtracks and multi-track singles) it receives sales reports three months following any given month's end. Earned revenue is collected by the Company's aggregator and the Company, at its own discretion, can request the earned funds be deposited into its proprietary PayPal account at a time of its own choosing.

Soul and Vibe Interactive Inc.

Basic and Diluted Earnings Per Share

The basic net loss per common share is computed by dividing the net loss by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding. Diluted net loss per common share is computed by dividing the net income adjusted on an “as if converted” basis, by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding plus potential dilutive securities.

Development Costs

The Company capitalizes all game software development costs once upon reaching the application development stage, management has authorized and committed funding to the project and it is probable that the project will be completed. Costs that are capitalized are primarily fees paid to consultants in the form of cash and common stock of the Company. Capitalization ceases no later than the point at which the project is substantially complete and ready for its intended use, generally after all substantial testing is completed.

Capitalized software development costs are amortized over the estimated useful life of 5 years, using the greater of the straight-line method or the ratio of current revenues to total projected future revenues. Amortization expense related to capitalized software development costs for the nine month periods ending September 30, 2015 and 2014 was $46,331 and $33,239, respectively.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements, (ASC 820) and ASC 825, Financial Instruments (ASC 825), requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. It establishes a fair value hierarchy based on the level of independent, objective evidence surrounding the inputs used to measure fair value. A financial instrument’s categorization within the fair value hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. It prioritizes the inputs into three levels that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1 - Level 1 applies to assets or liabilities for which there are quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 - Level 2 applies to assets or liabilities for which there are inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets; quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in markets with insufficient volume or infrequent transactions (less active markets); or model-derived valuations in which significant inputs are observable or can be derived principally from, or corroborated by, observable market data.

Level 3 - Level 3 applies to assets or liabilities for which there are unobservable inputs to the valuation methodology that are significant to the measurement of the fair value of the assets or liabilities.

The Company's financial instruments consist principally of cash, accounts payable, notes, convertible notes, accrued liabilities, and derivative liabilities. The recorded values of financial instruments other than the derivative liability approximate their current fair values because of their nature and respective maturity dates or durations. The derivative liability is measured at fair value.

Note 3 - Going Concern

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America, which contemplate continuation of the Company as a going concern. This basis of accounting contemplates the recovery of the Company's assets and the satisfaction of its liabilities in the normal course of business. Through September 30, 2015, the Company had incurred cumulative losses of $6,334,181 since inception. Additionally, the Company has accumulated significant losses, has negative working capital, and a deficit in shareholder's equity. All of these items raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. In view of these matters, recoverability of a major portion of the recorded asset amounts shown in the accompanying balance sheet is dependent upon continued operations of the Company, which in turn is dependent upon the Company's ability to raise additional capital and generate revenues from its operations. The financial statements do not include classification of recorded asset amounts or amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary, should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

Soul and Vibe Interactive Inc.

Notes to the Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

Management has taken the following steps to revise its operating and financial requirements, which it believes are sufficient to provide the Company with the ability to continue as a going concern. Management devoted considerable effort during the nine month period ended September 30, 2015, towards (i) obtaining additional equity financing, (ii) evaluation of its distribution and marketing methods, (iii) identifying and negotiating development/publishing and product acquisition opportunities for the Company, and (iv) launching two new publishing labels, Soul and Vibe Music & Soul and Vibe Books, in an effort to increase the number of potential revenue generating product launches on a staggered release schedule. In addition, the Company began to generate its first revenues in the first quarter of 2014 and has continued to generate revenue through the third quarter of 2015.

Management's plans with respect to alleviating the adverse financial conditions that caused the Company's independent auditors to express substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern are as follows:

Management requires $2.5M to $3.0M in financing in order to begin execution of its business plan and to continue operations. This capital, if raised, would be utilized over a twelve-month period. The financing will cover the acquisition of pick-ups (depending on the value of the financing, also the development of a proprietary intellectual property (IP) product) along with the release of the games and entertainment apps as well as the marketing and public relations (PR) expenses associated with bringing them to market on a variety of hardware platforms that include: video game consoles, mobiles devices, and personal computers (which also includes browser-based social media platforms, such as Facebook.) The anticipated number of pick-ups is two. The financing would also cover general and administrative expenses, operational expenses and will allow the Company to secure an initial number of premium full-time employees. The Company is currently evaluating financing opportunities that are compatible with its growth plans and business model. Additional financing (beyond the identified $2.5M to $3.0M; cumulatively of $5.0M) would allow the Company to pursue development of multiple projects "from scratch" and publish them in a "staggered" release, as per its current three-year business plan.

During 2014, the Company completed the development of, and released into the market, two products: Timeless Gems and Striker Rush: Champion Edition. Timeless Gems was released on Facebook, through Apple's App Store for iPhone, iPad, and iPod Touch mobile devices, and through Google Play for Android devices. Striker Rush: Champion Edition was released through Apple's App Store for iPhone, iPad, and iPod Touch mobile devices, and through Google Play and Amazon.com for Android devices in concert with its development partner, 1DER Entertainment. In addition to the development and release of the Timeless Gems product, two packages of expansion content for Timeless Gems were developed and released during 2014. A third package of Timeless Gems expansion content was developed during 2014, but this package has not yet been released as of September 30, 2015. This third package of expansion content is complete and is undergoing final quality assurance testing. It is anticipated that this third package of expansion content will be publicly announced, and released, during the fourth quarter of 2015.

In June 2015, the Company announced a new publishing label, Soul and Vibe Music. Soul and Vibe Music is a proprietary music-publishing label. The Company aims to leverage its existing, and to develop new, music assets associated with its licensed-brands and internally generated intellectual properties as stand-alone “premium” music soundtrack and multi-track music single product releases. It is the Company’s intent that these music soundtrack and multi-track music single product releases will double as potential revenue-generating marketing vehicles for the Company’s video games and entertainment apps based on licensed-brands and internally generated intellectual properties. As of September 30, 2015, Soul and Vibe Music has released one full-length soundtrack, “Songs of SirVival,” and three multi-track music singles, “SirVival and Tantrum,” “Who Is Gurk Burkle?,” and “Smorgon Magma, The Black Rider.” The development of a fourth multi-track music single, “Spellbound,” continued during the three months ended September 30, 2015, but it was neither formally announced nor released during the third quarter. As a subsequent event, “Spellbound” was both formally announced and released during October 2015. All five Soul and Vibe Music releases to date are available via streaming and/or digital download on Apple Music, iTunes, Spotify, Google Play, Amazon, Rdio, Deezer, Tidal, YouTube Music Key, Beats/MediaNet, and Microsoft Groove. (Microsoft Groove was added as a new distribution channel in October 2015, in concert with the launch of the “Spellbound” multi-track music single.) The music content that comprises all five Soul and Vibe Music releases to date are copyrighted assets of the Company, with each track possessing an associated proprietary ISRC code. The music content that comprises all five Soul and Vibe Music releases are recognized by Shazam. The music content that comprises all five Soul and Vibe Music releases is, also, accessible on iTunes for premium purchase within the Options Menu of the Company’s SirVival game.

Soul and Vibe Interactive Inc.

Notes to the Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

In August 2015, the Company announced a new publishing label, Soul and Vibe Books. Soul and Vibe Books is a proprietary publishing label that specializes in the development and launch of digitally distributed electronic books and storybooks. The Company aims to leverage its licensed-brands and internally generated intellectual properties as stand-alone “premium” entertainment app e-books. It is the Company’s intent that these e-books will double as potential revenue-generating marketing vehicles for the Company’s video games and entertainment apps based on licensed-brands and internally generated intellectual properties. During the three months ended September 30, 2015, the Company continued the development of a four-product line of entertainment apps, specifically e-books (or electronic storybooks) based on the Company’s John Deere licensed brand. The first product in the four-product line was Johnny Tractor and Friends: County Fair. Johnny Tractor and Friends: County Fair was launched on the App Store for iPhone, iPad, and iPod Touch on September 2, 2015. (As a subsequent event, Johnny Tractor and Friends: County fair was released on Google Play and Amazon during the month of October 2015.) Johnny Tractor and Friends: County Fair was the first product to be launched under the Company’s new Soul and Vibe Books label. During the three months ended September 30, 2015, the Company initiated the development of a second e-book that will be published under the Soul and Vibe Books label. It is anticipated that this second e-book will be formally announced and released during the fourth quarter, 2015. For up to two consecutive quarters thereafter (defined as one product per quarter) it is anticipated the Company will release one [additional] new e-book product in the line. Not including the previously released Johnny Tractor and Friends: County Fair e-book, there are currently three individual entertainment app e-books in various states of pre-production and production. It is the Company’s intent to localize all four e-books in the line into a variety of languages including, but not limited to, French, German, Spanish, and Italian. The Company anticipates that localized versions of its e-books will be released, albeit on a staggered release schedule, beginning in the late fourth quarter 2015/early first quarter 2016.

During the three months ended September 30, 2015, the Company continued the development of SirVival, an action-adventure “runner” game, for mobile platforms. As of June 30, 2015, SirVival had been released on Facebook and the Company announced the game would be subsequently released through Apple’s App Store for iPhone, iPad, and iPod Touch mobile devices, through Google Play and Amazon.com for Android devices, and on the Windows Mobile Platform (for Windows Phones and Surface Tablets) with anticipated future support for Xbox Live, as a feature set, primarily to coincide with Microsoft’s launch of the Windows 10 OS platform (which was released in July 2015.) The iOS and Android platform versions of SirVival were released during the third quarter of 2015. Additional platform releases (Amazon and Windows devices) are forthcoming. It is the Company’s intent to localize SirVival into a variety of languages including, but not limited to, French, German, Spanish, and Italian. The increase in development costs is primarily due to the launch and eventual launch of multiple products in fiscal years 2015 and 2016.

The Company had total liabilities of $2,692,705 as of September 30, 2015, compared with $1,672,821 as of December 31, 2014. The increase in total liabilities is mainly attributable to the increase of $766,998 in the derivative liability.

Operating Expenses

During the nine months ended September 30, 2015, the Company incurred operating expenses totaling $831,873 compared with $1,371,026 for the nine months ended September 30, 2014. During the nine months ended September 30, 2015, the Company realized net loss of $1,887,158 compared with net loss of $866,976, for the nine months ended September 30, 2014. The increase in net loss from the nine-month period ended September 30, 2014 to the nine-month period ended September 30, 2015 was primarily due to an increase in the loss on derivative.

During 2014, the Company completed the development of, and released into the market, two products: Timeless Gems and Striker Rush: Champion Edition. Timeless Gems was released on Facebook, through Apple's App Store for iPhone, iPad, and iPod Touch mobile devices, and through Google Play for Android devices. In addition to the development and release of the Timeless Gems product, two packages of expansion content for Timeless Gems were developed and released during 2014. A third package of Timeless Gems expansion content was developed during 2014, but this package has not yet been released as of September 30, 2015. This third package of expansion content is complete and is undergoing final quality assurance testing. It is anticipated that this third package of expansion content will be publicly announced, and released, during the fourth quarter of 2015.

In June 2015, the Company announced a new publishing label, Soul and Vibe Music. Soul and Vibe Music is a proprietary music-publishing label. The Company aims to leverage its existing, and to develop new, music assets associated with its licensed-brands and internally generated intellectual properties as stand-alone "premium" music soundtrack and multi-track music single product releases. It is the Company's intent that these music soundtrack and multi-track music single product releases will double as potential revenue-generating marketing vehicles for the Company's video games and entertainment apps based on licensed-brands and internally generated intellectual properties. As of September 30, 2015, Soul and Vibe Music has released one full-length soundtrack, "Songs of SirVival," and three multi-track music singles, "SirVival and Tantrum," "Who Is Gurk Burkle?," and "Smorgon Magma, The Black Rider." The development of a fourth multi-track music single, "Spellbound," continued during the three months ended September 30, 2015, but it was neither formally announced nor released during the third quarter. As a subsequent event, "Spellbound" was both formally announced and released during October 2015. All five Soul and Vibe Music releases to date are available via streaming and/or digital download on Apple Music, iTunes, Spotify, Google Play, Amazon, Rdio, Deezer, Tidal, YouTube Music Key, Beats/MediaNet, and Microsoft Groove. (Microsoft Groove was added as a new distribution channel in October 2015, in concert with the launch of the "Spellbound" multi-track music single.) The music content that comprises all five Soul and Vibe Music releases to date are copyrighted assets of the Company, with each track possessing an associated proprietary ISRC code. The music content that comprises all five Soul and Vibe Music releases are recognized by Shazam. The music content that comprises all five Soul and Vibe Music releases is, also, accessible on iTunes for premium purchase within the Options Menu of the Company's SirVival game.

In August 2015, the Company announced a new publishing label, Soul and Vibe Books. Soul and Vibe Books is a proprietary publishing label that specializes in the development and launch of digitally distributed electronic books and storybooks. The Company aims to leverage its licensed-brands and internally generated intellectual properties as stand-alone "premium" entertainment app e-books. During the three months ended September 30, 2015, the Company continued the development of a four-product line of entertainment apps, specifically e-books (or electronic storybooks) based on the Company's John Deere licensed brand. The first product in the four-product line was Johnny Tractor and Friends: County Fair. Johnny Tractor and Friends: County Fair was launched on the App Store for iPhone, iPad, and iPod Touch on September 2, 2015. (As a subsequent event, Johnny Tractor and Friends: County fair was released on Google Play and Amazon during the month of October 2015.) Johnny Tractor and Friends: County Fair was the first product to be launched under the Company's new Soul and Vibe Books label.

It is anticipated that this second e-book will be formally announced and released during the fourth quarter, 2015. For up to two consecutive quarters thereafter (defined as one product per quarter) it is anticipated the Company will release one [additional] new e-book product in the line. Not including the previously released Johnny Tractor and Friends: County Fair e-book, there are currently three individual entertainment app e-books in various states of pre-production and production. It is the Company's intent to localize all four e-books in the line into a variety of languages including, but not limited to, French, German, Spanish, and Italian. The Company anticipates that localized versions of its e-books will be released, albeit on a staggered release schedule, beginning in the late fourth quarter 2015/early first quarter 2016.

During the three months ended September 30, 2015, the Company continued the development of SirVival, an action-adventure "runner" game, for mobile platforms. As of June 30, 2015, SirVival had been released on Facebook and the Company announced the game would be subsequently released through Apple's App Store for iPhone, iPad, and iPod Touch mobile devices, through Google Play and Amazon.com for Android devices, and on the Windows Mobile Platform (for Windows Phones and Surface Tablets) with anticipated future support for Xbox Live, as a feature set, primarily to coincide with Microsoft's launch of the Windows 10 OS platform (which was released in July 2015.) The iOS and Android platform versions of SirVival were released during the third quarter of 2015. Additional platform releases (Amazon and Windows devices) are forthcoming. It is the Company's intent to localize SirVival into a variety of languages including, but not limited to, French, German, Spanish, and Italian. The Company anticipates that localized versions of SirVival will be released, albeit on a staggered platform release schedule, beginning in the late fourth quarter 2015/early first quarter 2016.

During the third quarter, the Company became an approved 3rd Party licensee of Nintendo. The Company has been granted approval to develop and publish games, through digital distribution channels, for the Nintendo 3DS™ system and the Wii U™ system. The Company's releases will be digitally distributed, and launched, through the Nintendo eShop. Going Concern

We have not attained profitable operations and are dependent upon obtaining financing to pursue any extensive acquisitions and activities. For these reasons, our auditors stated in their report on our audited financial statements that they have substantial doubt that we will be able to continue as a going concern without further financing. Our intended source of future cash flow to fund our growth model until we are able to establish profitable operations are through additional debt and equity offerings.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We have no significant off-balance sheet arrangements that have or are reasonably likely to have a current or future effect on our financial condition, changes in financial condition, revenues or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures or capital resources that are material to stockholders.

Future Financings

We will continue to rely on the issuance of debt and equity in order to continue to fund our business operations. Issuances of additional shares will result in dilution to existing stockholders. There is no assurance that we will achieve any additional sales of the equity securities or arrange for debt or other financing to fund planned acquisitions and exploration activities.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK.

We are a smaller reporting company as defined by Rule 12b-2 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and are not required to provide the information under this item.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES.

Evaluation of disclosure controls and procedures

We carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, of the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined) in Exchange Act Rules 13a – 15(c) and 15d – 15(e)). Based upon that evaluation, our principal executive officer and principal financial officer concluded that, as of the end of the period covered in this report, our disclosure controls and procedures were not effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed in reports filed under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”) is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the required time periods and is accumulated and communicated to our management, including principal executive officer and principal financial officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Our principal executive officer and principal financial officer does not expect that our disclosure controls will prevent all error and all fraud. Although our disclosure controls and procedures were designed to provide reasonable assurance of achieving their objectives and our principal executive officer and principal financial officer has determined that our disclosure controls and procedures are effective at doing so, a control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute assurance that the objectives of the system are met. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within the Company have been detected. These inherent limitations include the realities that judgments in decision-making can be faulty, and that breakdowns can occur because of a simple error or mistake. Additionally, controls can be circumvented if there exists in an individual a desire to do so. There can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There has been no change in the Company’s internal control over financial reporting during the three months ended September 30, 2015, that materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company’s internal control over financial reporting.
