Item 2.02. Results of Operations and Financial Condition.

On October 17, 2013, Baxter International Inc. issued an earnings press release for the quarterly period ended September 30, 2013. The press release, including attachments, is furnished as Exhibit 99.1 to this report.

The press release furnished as Exhibit 99.1 contains financial measures that are not calculated in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). The non-GAAP financial measures include adjusted net income, adjusted earnings per diluted share and adjusted pre-tax income, each excluding special items. Special items are excluded because they are unusual or nonrecurring and accordingly can be highly variable, difficult to predict, and of a size that may substantially impact the company's reported operations for a period. Among other things, certain upfront and milestone payments related to collaborative arrangements that have been expensed as research and development (R&D) are made to either secure access to third-party research or product licensing or are contingent upon the successful completion of pre-determined regulatory achievement targets. These payments are uncertain and often result in a different payment and expense recognition pattern than internal R&D activities and therefore are typically excluded as special items. The press release also includes the non-GAAP financial measure of net debt, which represents the difference between total debt (defined as short-term debt, current maturities of long-term debt and lease obligations, and long-term debt and lease obligations) and cash and equivalents.

Management believes that non-GAAP earnings measures, when used in conjunction with the results presented in accordance with GAAP and the reconciliations to corresponding GAAP financial measures, may provide a more complete understanding of the company's operations and can facilitate a fuller analysis of the company's results of operations, particularly in evaluating performance from one period to another. Accordingly, management uses these non-GAAP measures internally in financial planning, to monitor business unit performance, and in some cases for purposes of determining incentive compensation. Management uses net debt for internal planning purposes and to monitor compliance with the company's primary credit facilities as net debt corresponds with certain financial covenants contained therein.

The company strongly encourages investors to review its consolidated financial statements and publicly filed reports in their entirety and cautions investors that the non-GAAP measures used by the company may differ from similar measures used by other companies, even when similar terms are used to identify such measures.
