Transition Team Updates

As many Trigon employees and Anthem associates know, transition activities have been moving at a rapid pace since the announcement of the merger. The finance, information technology, administration, operations, specialty products, medical management and human resources transition teams have initiated their work. Each team is currently researching the activities and processes of both companies in order to identify best practices and develop recommendations to present to the Executive Steering Committee (ESC).

In addition, new teams have formed to address other transition needs. The following Trigon employees and Anthem associates will lead these new teams:

Team	Trigon	Anthem
HIPAA	Dan Desmond	Bob Heird
Internal Audit/Compliance	Tom Payne	Sue Ulrey

Transition teams are scheduled to begin presenting their recommendations to the ESC by the end of May. The ESC will listen to the recommendations and approve or refine them as needed. Once approvals are given by the ESC, the plans will be announced to the employees of both companies. Implementation of the approved plans will not begin until after the close of the merger transaction.

Communicating About The Proposed Merger

Quite understandably, there's a lot of news to communicate internally and externally about the proposed merger. Because the proposed merger must be approved by various regulatory agencies, there are certain rules to follow to ensure the transition is a smooth one.

On May 21, 2002, Anthem filed a registration statement on Form S-4, including the preliminary joint proxy statement/prospectus constituting a part thereof, with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). Right now, we are in what is called the "quiet period." It is important that everyone be extremely careful in communicating any information relating to the merger. Any improper communications could potentially jeopardize the necessary regulatory approvals.

Trigon employees and Anthem associates should, of course, go about their jobs as usual. However, it is important to exercise care prior to communicating any information relating to the merger. Internal communication relating to transition planning should be limited to communication within and among those teams only. Speculation about the merger or statements of value about the merger, whether written or oral, should be avoided.

Transition Update will keep you posted on where we are in the merger process.

If you have the opportunity to work with one of the transition teams, please consider your work confidential. Transition team initiatives will be announced after approval is given by the ESC. Appropriate internal communication among transition planning teams is fine.

If anyone receives phone calls from the press, stockbrokers, investors or bankers, you should not respond. Instead, Trigon employees should direct such inquiries to Investor Relations (804) 354-3224 or Media Relations (804) 354-3609. Anthem associates should direct inquiries to Lauren Green-Caldwell at (317) 488-6321 for media or Tami Durlle at (317) 488-6390 for investor relations.

Under no circumstances should anyone send out any written communications regarding the merger. Any written communications must be reviewed by corporate communications. For more information, Trigon employees should contact Beth Laws and Anthem associates should contact Monica Kendrick.
