Section 1 Registrant's Business and Operations

Item 1.01. Entry Into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On December 12, 2008, American International Group, Inc. (AIG), the Life Insurance Companies (as defined below), all wholly owned U.S. life insurance company subsidiaries of AIG, and AIG Securities Lending Corp. (the AIG Agent), another AIG subsidiary, entered into an Asset Purchase Agreement (the Asset Purchase Agreement) with Maiden Lane II LLC (ML II), a Delaware limited liability company whose sole member is the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (the NY Fed).

Pursuant to the Asset Purchase Agreement, the Life Insurance Companies sold to ML II all of their undivided interests in a pool of $39.3 billion face amount of residential mortgage-backed securities (the RMBS) held by the AIG Agent, as agent of the Life Insurance Companies, in connection with AIG's U.S. securities lending program (the Securities Lending Program). The AIG Agent had purchased the RMBS on behalf of the Life Insurance Companies with cash held as collateral for securities loaned by the Life Insurance Companies in the Securities Lending Program. In exchange for the RMBS, the Life Insurance Companies received an initial purchase price of $19.8 billion plus the right to receive deferred contingent portions of the total purchase price as described below. The amount of the initial payment and the deferred contingent portions of the total purchase price, if any are realized, will be allocated among the Life Insurance Companies based on their respective ownership interests in the pool of RMBS as of September 30, 2008.

Pursuant to a credit agreement, the NY Fed, as senior lender, made a loan to ML II in the aggregate amount of $19.5 billion (the Senior Loan). The Senior Loan is secured by a first priority security interest in the RMBS, bears interest at a rate per annum equal to one-month LIBOR plus 1.00 percent and has a stated six-year term, subject to extension by the NY Fed at its sole discretion. After the Senior Loan has been repaid in full, to the extent there are sufficient net cash proceeds from the RMBS, the Life Insurance Companies will be entitled to receive from ML II a portion of the deferred contingent purchase price in the amount of up to $1.0 billion plus interest that accrues from the closing date and is capitalized monthly at the rate of one-month LIBOR plus 3.00 percent. In addition, after ML II has paid this fixed portion of the deferred contingent purchase price plus interest, the Life Insurance Companies will be entitled to receive one-sixth of any net proceeds received by ML II in respect of the RMBS as the remaining deferred contingent purchase price for the RMBS and the NY Fed will receive five-sixths of any net proceeds received by ML II in respect of the RMBS as contingent interest on the Senior Loan. The NY Fed will have sole control over the sales of the RMBS by ML II so long as the NY Fed has any interest in the Senior Loan.

The Life Insurance Companies applied the initial consideration from the RMBS sale, along with available cash and $5.1 billion provided by AIG in the form of capital contributions, to settle outstanding securities lending transactions under the Securities Lending Program, including those with the NY Fed, which totaled approximately $20.5 billion at December 12, 2008, and the Securities Lending Program, including the Securities Lending Agreement with the NY Fed, has been terminated.

The Life Insurance Companies are American General Life Insurance Company, American General Life and Accident Insurance Company, The United States Life Insurance Company in the City of New York, AIG Life Insurance Company, American International Life Assurance Company of New York, AIG Annuity Insurance Company, The Variable Annuity Life Insurance Company, American Life Insurance Company, First SunAmerica Life Insurance Company, AIG SunAmerica Life Assurance Company and SunAmerica Life Insurance Company.

This summary of the terms of the Asset Purchase Agreement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the terms of the Asset Purchase Agreement, which is filed as exhibit 10.1 to this Form 8-K and incorporated by reference into this Item 1.01.
