NOTES:

A) A&P is evaluating the appropriate accounting method for its investment in Metro's common stock and will apply either the equity method or cost method. Therefore, the pro forma financial statements do not reflect the impact of either method. Set forth below is information relating to the estimated impact of both the accounting methods for the periods presented in the pro forma financial statements.

If A&P concludes that it has significant influence in relation to Metro, A&P would use the equity method to account for its investment in Metro and would record its proportionate share of Metro's income or loss. A&P's proportionate share of Metro's earnings (excluding the impact of Metro's acquisition of A&P's Canadian operations) would have increased income from continuing operations of $20.5 million for FY 2004 and $5.8 million for the 16 weeks ended June 18, 2005. A&P's investment in Metro would have increased by the amount of its proportionate share of income and decreased by the amount of any dividends received.

If A&P concludes the cost method is appropriate, A&P would record dividends received from Metro as income. Based upon the dividends paid by Metro on its outstanding Class A Subordinate Voting Shares during the periods presented in the pro forma financial statements, the amount of dividends which would have been received from Metro and reported as income would have been approximately $4.6 million for the fiscal year ended February 26, 2005 and $1.2 million for the 16 weeks ended June 18, 2005.

B) The pro forma financial statements exclude the impact of a two year service agreement with Metro to provide IT services for $20 million Canadian on an annual basis. Metro has the option to renew this agreement for a third year.

C) Represents the gain on the sale of A&P Canada for approximately US $1 billion in cash and 18,076,645 shares of common stock of Metro, excluding the impact of certain foreign currency hedges of $36,593. The gain has not been adjusted to reflect either the cost or equity method of accounting. If the cost method is used to account for the investment there would be no adjustment to the estimated gain. However, if the equity method is used to account for the investment then the gain would be decreased by approximately $179,641, with a corresponding decrease in the investment.
